Defector's Wife Goes Home After Russian-Dutch Melee

Police, Soviets Swap Punches At Amsterdam

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—A Dutch policeman punched Soviet Ambassador P. K. Ponomarenko on the nose Monday in a free-swinging fist fight between Dutch police and Soviet officials over custody of Mrs. Alexei Golub whose Russian husband defected to the West.

When it was all over and after long hours of debate Mrs. Golub announced she was ready to return to Moscow and left shortly afterward. The weeping husband decided to remain in Holland.

Ponomarenko had threatened "far reaching consequences" for the Dutch government over the scuffle at Schiphol Airport and received in turn a dressing down from Dutch Premier Jan E. De Quay who personally protested the Soviet violence.

Mrs. Golub's agonizing decision came after an airport reunion with her 35-year-old husband, a chemical engineer from the Ural mountain city of Svedlovak who came here with her on a Russian tour sponsored by the Soviet government.

A Soviet Tupolov jet airliner which had waited at the airport all day took off almost immediately for Moscow with Mrs. Golub and the other Russian tourists. A Dutch official could only say: "I find this a terrible tragedy."

Golub had walked the streets of Amsterdam all night Saturday threshing out his decision to seek political asylum in the West. Early Sunday he knocked on the door of a small hotel and told the proprietess in broken German of his decision.

She called police who took him into custody. Mrs. Golub was reported willing at first to defect too but changed her mind after thinking of her parents in Russia. While making up her own mind she told officials "I love my husband."

Dutch officials took her into custody Monday at Schiphol Airport to ask her in private if she was returning to Russia of her own free will. But before the questioning could be completed Ponomarenko led a successful assault on the Dutch police station where she was held.

"I told them we wished to speak to her alone but they would have none of it," Dutch police Lieutenant A. Veltman reported to the government.

"They started a fist fight and we threw them out of our office.

The premier called the ambassador to his office at the Hague and told him:

"The government is obliged to protest emphatically and vigorously the actions of Soviet Embassy employes who, with the use of violence, turned against frontier police who were performing their lawful duty."

De Squay told Ponomarenko Holland was still willing for the woman to return if she wished and would give her back her passport if she asked for it. It was seizure of the passport that appeared to annoy the Russians as much as anything.

Russ Vessel Rescues Stranded Fishermen

CHRISTIANSOE, DENMARK. (UPI)—A Soviet tugboat Monday picked up 20 stranded Russian fishermen who had rejected Danish offers of help to huddle on a rock in the sea for two cold and wet nights without shelter.

The fishermen clambered onto the rock, less than a mile off this tiny Danish island in the Baltic Sea, after their trawler ran aground in clear weather late Saturday.

They refused all offers of help from friendly Danish seamen. Even the fact that the Soviet government asked the Danes to help made no difference. They refused even to allow a Danish doctor to treat an injured crewman.

After Rayburn Visit

3 More Air Guard Units Called Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three more Air National Guard fighter squadrons and their supporting units are being ordered to active duty Nov. 1 in America's military buildup to meet the Berlin crisis, the Defense Department announced Monday.

The new squadrons called up were the 197th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Phoenix, Ariz.; the 157th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Eastover, S. C., and the 151st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Knoxville, Tenn.

Chiang Assails Reds, Neutrals

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) —Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek Monday said the United Nations has been dragged to the brink of disaster by the Communist bloc and short-sighted collaborators among the so-called neutralist nations.

The president of Nationalist China predicted the outbreak of World War III if Communist China is admitted to the world organization.

Chiang lashed out at "cowardly, selfish neutralistic opportunists" and the Communists in a 4,000-word address issued on the eve of the Republic of China's 50th anniversary and beamed by radio to the Communist-held mainland. He is to deliver the speech at the mammoth celebration Tuesday of the "double ten," so called because the event falls on the 10th day of the 10th month.

"Double ten" also will be observed by Communist China Tuesday. The anniversary commemorates the founding of the Republic of China by Dr. Sun Yat Sen in 1911.

Gromyko Plans Stop In London To See Home

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lord Home arranged a private dinner party for Andrei A. Gromyko Tuesday after learning the Soviet foreign minister is planning a one-day stopover in London.

The meeting almost certainly will be dominated by talks on the East-West Berlin crisis, British officials said.

Gromyko is returning to Moscow after talks in Washington with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Both the U. S. and British governments believe there are now no acceptable terms on which East and West can go into talks on the future of Berlin and Germany.

That was spelled out by a Foreign Ministry spokesman, who told reporters: "The position remains as it was—there is still no acceptable basis for negotiations."

Gromyko in three weeks in the United States held informal exchanges with Western officials but at no time relaxed the Soviet position on Berlin, informed sources said.

Not once did he spell out what Premier Khrushchev meant when he said Western rights in isolated Berlin would be guaranteed after a Soviet-Communist East German peace treaty.

Kennedy is understood to have told Gromyko emphatically that Britain, France and the United States are determined to defend the freedom of West Berlin.

Authorities Still Hunting Clues To Poison Deaths

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI)—Police investigating the mysterious double poisoning deaths of two college boys Monday analyzed food scraps and containers found in their dormitory room.

The mystery at the University of North Carolina campus deepened Monday with these other developments:

—It was disclosed that the janitor who discovered the bodies Friday morning earlier had cleaned the room where they lay, thinking the boys were asleep. Police feared the janitor, Robert Holt, may have unwittingly destroyed some clues during the routine cleaning.

—Police ruled out any possibility of a connection between the deaths and disclosure that another university student, Ralph Sargent, 20, of North Plainfield, N.J., possessed a quantity of deadly one-gram capsules of mercuric cyanide. It was reported later Monday that Sargent had been admitted to the university infirmary but details were not immdeiately available.

Cyanide was the poison that claimed the lives of James Michael Barham, 20, of Burlington, N.C., and graduate student William Henry Harrison Johnson Jr., 24, of Statesville, N.C.

Police, not sure whether deaths were a double murder, a murder-suicide or a suicide pact, ordered laboratory analysis of food items and containers found in the neat, uncluttered room where Holt found the bodies last Friday.

Rusk And Top Aides Discuss Berlin Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States began Monday a strategy review to decide what course to follow next in seeking a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in top aides to a working lunch, among them Asst. Secretary Foy Kohler, Soviet affairs expert Charles Bohlen, and the U.S. ambassadors from Moscow and Bonn.

The two envoys — Llewellyn Thompson from Moscow and Walter C. Dowling from Bonn—are in Washington especially for a review of the so far unsuccessful U.S. effort to see whether the Soviets will offer acceptable terms for East-West negotiation on Germany. The ambassadors are expected to return to their posts late this week.

At midafternoon Kohler met with envoys from Britain, France and West Germany to trade ideas on future alternatives on the Berlin issue.

These meetings were part of what State Department press officer Lincoln White described as "a further study and analysis" of the just-concluded conversations held by President Kennedy and Rusk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

U.S. diplomats awaited with interest the outcome of the next Gromyko discussion with a Western leader, slated to take place in London Tuesday with the British foreign secretary, Lord Home.

U.S. informants said ths Kennedy-Gromyko get-together last Friday, produced no progress in the U.S. probe to see whether the Kremlin is willing to negotiate on terms acceptable to the West.

What action the West would adopt next depends on the outcome of the studies now under way, White said.

Kennedy and Rusk were reported interested in continuing the sounding out operation with the Soviets, with Thompson possibly continuing in Moscow the exploratory talks started with Gromyko here.

According to this line of thinking, a basis for settlement with the Reds can be found if the effort is pressed long and patiently. And the chances of shooting breaking out are being reduced while the talks are under way.

British Leader Shifts Ministers

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan shifted two powerful British ministers—Iain Macleod and R. A. Butler—to new posts in the most spectacular cabinet shakeup since Suez.

Macleod, 47, moved out as colonial secretary—a post he has filled for two years. His liberal African policies had drawn fire from white settler leaders and the right wing of his own Conservative party. Later, when he seemed to back-pedal, Negro leaders turned on him.

Macmillan gave him instead the chairmanship of the Conservative party and made him leader of the House of Commons, both vastly influential but domestic posts.

Butler, 59, gave way to Macleod as Conservative party and leader of Commons. He stayed on as home secretary in charge of internal affairs. Butler also moved in as Macmillan's special assistant with authority to supervise Britain's bid to join Europe's Common Market.

There is suspicion that both men have been kicked upstairs.

Macmillan coupled these shifts in the party hierarchy with 10 other ministerial changes.

These were featured by a new double-ranking system of administration—with two senior ministers running each key ministry so as to guard against overstrain and to allow for longer-term planning.

Thieves Loot Manor

TEWKESBURY, England (AP) —Baroness Violet von Gagern, 45, slept in a bare bed beneath an automobile rug in her manor Sunday night. Returning after two years abroad she found thieves had taken almost everything movable—sheets, mattresses, carpets, chairs, tables stoves, even ash trays and an ancient Chinese gong.

Supreme Court Leaves Agency Shop To States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday let stand a Kansas court decision that the state may ban agency shop agreements—pacts that require nonunion workers to pay a union the equivalent of union dues.

It was the Supreme Court's first encounter with this issue. The action, coupled with a Sept. 29 ruling by the National Labor Relations Board approving such agreements in Indiana, appeared to mean it is up to the individual states to decide the legality of the agency shop.

In this first business day of the 1961 session, the court also refused to hear an appeal by the Communist party that the court reconsider their June 5 decision ordering the party to register with the Subversive Activities Control Board as an agency of Moscow.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the action meant "the Communist party, U.S.A., has exhausted its last legal recourse after years of contesting" the 1950 order.

He said that within 30 days after the court's order becomes final, the party must file with the Justice Department the names and addresses of the party's officers and members during the past year, an accounting of its finances and list of printing presses owned and controlled by the party or its members.

After the June 5 decision, Communist party officials said they did not plan to register. Kennedy then announced proceedings would be started against the party, but Justice Felix Frankfurter granted a stay pending action on the request for reconsideration.

The refusals to rehear the Communist party case or to consider the agency shop agreements were announced in terse orders, without explanation.

The agency shop issue has a bearing especially on 19 states, such as Kansas and Indiana, which have enacted right-to-work laws. These states bar labor contracts requiring union membership as a condition of employment.

Bang-Jensen Suicide Verdict Questioned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate internal security subcommittee Monday questioned the suicide verdict in the 1959 death of U.N. diplomat Povl Bang-Jensen. It said he may have been the victim of "political murder" by the Soviet "terror apparatus."

In a report on an investigation led by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., the subcommittee said:

"There are too many solid arguments against suicide, too many unanswered questions, too many serious reasons for suspecting Soviet motivation and the possibility of Soviet implication."

Bang-Jensen, a Dane, was assistant secretary of the United Nations investigation of the 1957 Hungarian revolt. He was suspended from his post after he refused to turn over a list of freedom fighter witnesses who testified in the inquiry on condition that their identities would not be disclosed.

UAW Seeks Ford Pact By Thursday

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union Monday set a target date of Thursday for reaching a national agreement with the strike-bound Ford Motor Co.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther called the union's 180-member National Ford Council into session in Detroit at 1 p.m., Thursday. The implication was that the union hoped to wrap up a master contract for 120,000 striking workers by that date.

In a brief statement Reuther said, "the council will review the status of negotiations and take appropriate actions on the national contract.

"Local unions which have not resolved their local demands should intensify their efforts at reaching complete settlement before coming to the national meeting.

"Immediately following the national council the international union will review with the local unions involved unresolved local issues and make a decision with respect to specific strike authorization in support of such unresolved issues."

Berlin Mayor Warns Reds

BERLIN (UPI) — Twenty-eight divisions of the Warsaw Pact nations, including Soviet troops reported quipped with atomic rockets, Monday carried out war maneuvers in East Germany in a move that put more pressure on the West.

In Berlin itself, Lord Mayor Willy Brandt angrily threatened to take action to stop Communist police guarding the Communist wall dividing the city from shooting West Berliners. He hinted the Western police might be given bigger weapons.

In the latest incident, a Red Vopo (civilian police) at Brandenburg Gate fired a warning shot from a machine pistol at a West Berlin photographer who sneaked through the barrier to take pictures. The photographer ran back to West Berlin unharmed, police reported.

AFL-CIO Doors Remain Closed To Teamsters

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said Monday the federation's doors were still closed to the Teamsters Union.

Meany, the most powerful single figure in the big labor organization, thus doomed in advance the pleas of a number of AFL-CIO unions to cancel the four-year-old exile of James R. Hoffa's huge Teamsters Union.

Federation relations with the Teamsters are the biggest problem facing AFL-CIO chiefs at their autumn session, which opened Monday.

While some elements favor forgiving the Teamsters of corruption charges, others want to make what would amount to a declaration of war against Hoffa's union by setting up a rival AFL-CIO teamsters organization.

On the latter point Meany had no comment for the moment. He has been encouraging scattered rebel groups to leave Hoffa's organization and come into the AFL-CIO.

This has led AFL-CIO Vice Presidents Joseph A. Beirne and James B. Carey to urge formation of a rival AFL-CIO teamsters union or, at least, set up a counter teamsters organizing committee.

It was strongly indicated, however, that the AFL-CIO chiefs do not relish the idea of taking on an all-out labor war with Hoffa. They may decide to formally encourage further local defections from Hoffa's union but probably will steer clear of establishing a rival union.

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of Walter Reuther's Auto Workers Union, said for example his union believed that the AFL-CIO should neither take back the Teamsters nor set up a separate teamsters union organization.

1,000 Motorists Stranded Overnight By Deep Snow

LITTLE AMERICA, Wyo. (UPI) — Long lines of traffic inched past on U. S. Highway 30 Monday as the more than 1,000 motorists stranded by a sudden weekend snowstorm resumed their journeys along the transcontinental highway.

The storm, which struck with savage fury Sunday, left 8 to 10 inches of snow on U. S. 30 at Green River, Wyo., 17 miles east of here, and more than 13 inches at Lander, 110 miles to the northeast.

Little America, with a population of 105, was the refuge of between 500-800 motorists and truck drivers during the night. More than 500 others were stranded in Rock Springs, 32 miles to the east. At Rock Springs they stayed in private homes, schools, gymnasiums and the National Guard Armory to wait out the storm.

Among the travelers stranded here was Sen. J. J. Hickey, D-Wyo., who was en route from Rock Springs to Lyman, Wyo., for a speech Sunday when he and his traveling companion, Wyoming State Rep. William G. (Bill) Rector of Cheyenne, found they could go no further.

Hickey and Rector spent the night at the Little America hotel here. They arrived in time to get a room, but many others were less fortunate.

The hotel management put 100-120 people to bed on the dining room floor, and others were sent to homes of hotel employes to spend the night. The hotel used every blanket, sheet and pillow it had, and still there were not enough.

U. S. 30 was opened to emergency traffic at 1:45 a.m. Monday and to normal traffic later in the morning. However, it was still icy and hazardous.

Flies 3,000 Miles, Stays 14 Minutes

President Praises Rayburn's Courage In Face Of Death

DALLAS (AP)—President Kennedy went 3,000 miles out of his way Monday to spend 14 minutes trying to cheer up House Speaker Sam Rayburn, seriously ill with cancer.

As the President left the hospital, he told newsmen: "We had a good conversation. I was happy to have a good chance to talk with him.

"He's sick, of course, but I was glad I could be with him. He was in good spirits and showed courage enough for anybody."

No one was with the President when he saw Rayburn, who already was an outstanding congressman at the time Kennedy was born.

The President spoke with Rayburn, then went to talk with the doctors and members of the family and returned again to talk with Rayburn.

At 4:21 p.m. Kennedy quickly left the hospital.

He was driven rapidly to Love Field to go back to Washington.

In Dallas 75 Minutes

In all he was in Dallas for only an hour and 15 minutes.

Shortly before Kennedy went up the ramp to his big plane, the Rev. Baxton Bryant, former pastor of the Elmwood Methodist Church in Dallas, told the President: "I appreciate your coming to Dallas."

According to Bryant, Kennedy replied: "I could do no less, but it is very sorrowful because of the illness of Mr. Rayburn. We know that all the nation is praying for him. Let us hope for the best."

It was a gloomy afternoon in Dallas.

It had rained hard earlier in the day, and a light rain was still falling when the big presidential plane came in.

But Kennedy came down the ramp without a hat or coat, and quickly got into his car for a drive to the hospital.

President Changes Planes

Originally Kennedy had intended to go straight back to Washington from his weekend in Newport, R.I. But this morning—possibly because he had been told that Rayburn was feeling more alert—he changed his plans.

Kennedy took the long trip to Texas for just a few minutes with the politician who has earned the title "Mr. Democrat."

Kennedy scarcely paused before starting the seven-mile drive from Love Field to Baylor University Medical Center.

There in room 729 Rayburn, 79, is waging the hardest fight of his long career.

Cancer has moved through his body so that there's no hope of recovery. Rayburn began getting daily injections of a special drug Sunday, but it can only slow down, or possibly halt the steady spread of cancer.

Souvanna Runs Into Laos Delay

HIN HEUP, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, who campaigned a long time to gain nomination as the new premier of Laos, will have to wait a bit longer than expected for King Savang Vathana's blessing.

Premier Prince Boun Oum, the rightist whom Souvanna is driving to succeed, touched the brakes lightly Monday.

Boun Oum was one of two men Souvanna commissioned at this village on the jungle kingdom's cease-fire line to see the king at Luang Probang, the royal capital, and arrange an audience Tuesday for the premier-designate. The other man was Souvanna's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

But it was announced in Vientiane, the administrative capital, that Boun Oum isn't leaving until Monday for Luang Probang, 140 miles north of that city. No reason was given for the delay.

That means Souvanna, who needs the formality of royal approval, will not be received by the king before Wednesday at the earliest.

Brown Thinks Nixon Would Yield To Draft

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California Gov. Edmund G. Brown said Monday he thought former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would "succumb" to a Republican draft for president in 1964.

The governor said he thought Nixon's avowal to serve out the full four-year term if elected governor — thus passing up the 1964 presidential race—would be forgotten by Nixon.

Thieves Loot Manor

TEWKESBURY, England (AP) —Baroness Violet von Gagern, 45, slept in a bare bed beneath an automobile rug in her manor Sunday night. Returning after two years abroad she found thieves had taken almost everything movable—sheets, mattresses, carpets, chairs, tables stoves, even ash trays and an ancient Chinese gong.

Yankees Whoop It Up

John Blanchard, Bud Daley and Hector Lopez (left to right) whoop it up in dressing room after the New York Yankees won the fifth game and the World Series with a 13-5 rout of the Cincinnati Reds yesterday. Daley went to the mound in the third inning and finished game as the pitcher of record. Blanchard and Lopez hit homers as the Yanks copped the series four games to one. Supreme Court Leaves Agency Shop To States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday let stand a Kansas court decision that the state may ban agency shop agreements—pacts that require nonunion workers to pay a union the equivalent of union dues.

It was the Supreme Court's first encounter with this issue. The action, coupled with a Sept. 29 ruling by the National Labor Relations Board approving such agreements in Indiana, appeared to mean it is up to the individual states to decide the legality of the agency shop.

In this first business day of the 1961 session, the court also refused to hear an appeal by the Communist party that the court reconsider their June 5 decision ordering the party to register with the Subversive Activities Control Board as an agency of Moscow.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the action meant "the Communist party, U.S.A., has exhausted its last legal recourse after years of contesting" the 1950 order.

He said that within 30 days after the court's order becomes final, the party must file with the Justice Department the names and addresses of the party's officers and members during the past year, an accounting of its finances and list of printing presses owned and controlled by the party or its members.

After the June 5 decision, Communist party officials said they did not plan to register. Kennedy then announced proceedings would be started against the party, but Justice Felix Frankfurter granted a stay pending action on the request for reconsideration.

The refusals to rehear the Communist party case or to consider the agency shop agreements were announced in terse orders, without explanation.

The agency shop issue has a bearing especially on 19 states, such as Kansas and Indiana, which have enacted right-to-work laws. These states bar labor contracts requiring union membership as a condition of employment.

Bang-Jensen Suicide Verdict Questioned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate internal security subcommittee Monday questioned the suicide verdict in the 1959 death of U.N. diplomat Povl Bang-Jensen. It said he may have been the victim of "political murder" by the Soviet "terror apparatus."

In a report on an investigation led by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., the subcommittee said:

"There are too many solid arguments against suicide, too many unanswered questions, too many serious reasons for suspecting Soviet motivation and the possibility of Soviet implication."

Bang-Jensen, a Dane, was assistant secretary of the United Nations investigation of the 1957 Hungarian revolt. He was suspended from his post after he refused to turn over a list of freedom fighter witnesses who testified in the inquiry on condition that their identities would not be disclosed.

UAW Seeks Ford Pact By Thursday

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union Monday set a target date of Thursday for reaching a national agreement with the strike-bound Ford Motor Co.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther called the union's 180-member National Ford Council into session in Detroit at 1 p.m., Thursday. The implication was that the union hoped to wrap up a master contract for 120,000 striking workers by that date.

In a brief statement Reuther said, "the council will review the status of negotiations and take appropriate actions on the national contract.

"Local unions which have not resolved their local demands should intensify their efforts at reaching complete settlement before coming to the national meeting.

"Immediately following the national council the international union will review with the local unions involved unresolved local issues and make a decision with respect to specific strike authorization in support of such unresolved issues."

Berlin Mayor Warns Reds

BERLIN (UPI) — Twenty-eight divisions of the Warsaw Pact nations, including Soviet troops reported quipped with atomic rockets, Monday carried out war maneuvers in East Germany in a move that put more pressure on the West.

In Berlin itself, Lord Mayor Willy Brandt angrily threatened to take action to stop Communist police guarding the Communist wall dividing the city from shooting West Berliners. He hinted the Western police might be given bigger weapons.

In the latest incident, a Red Vopo (civilian police) at Brandenburg Gate fired a warning shot from a machine pistol at a West Berlin photographer who sneaked through the barrier to take pictures. The photographer ran back to West Berlin unharmed, police reported.

AFL-CIO Doors Remain Closed To Teamsters

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said Monday the federation's doors were still closed to the Teamsters Union.

Meany, the most powerful single figure in the big labor organization, thus doomed in advance the pleas of a number of AFL-CIO unions to cancel the four-year-old exile of James R. Hoffa's huge Teamsters Union.

Federation relations with the Teamsters are the biggest problem facing AFL-CIO chiefs at their autumn session, which opened Monday.

While some elements favor forgiving the Teamsters of corruption charges, others want to make what would amount to a declaration of war against Hoffa's union by setting up a rival AFL-CIO teamsters organization.

On the latter point Meany had no comment for the moment. He has been encouraging scattered rebel groups to leave Hoffa's organization and come into the AFL-CIO.

This has led AFL-CIO Vice Presidents Joseph A. Beirne and James B. Carey to urge formation of a rival AFL-CIO teamsters union or, at least, set up a counter teamsters organizing committee.

It was strongly indicated, however, that the AFL-CIO chiefs do not relish the idea of taking on an all-out labor war with Hoffa. They may decide to formally encourage further local defections from Hoffa's union but probably will steer clear of establishing a rival union.

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of Walter Reuther's Auto Workers Union, said for example his union believed that the AFL-CIO should neither take back the Teamsters nor set up a separate teamsters union organization.

1,000 Motorists Stranded Overnight By Deep Snow

LITTLE AMERICA, Wyo. (UPI) — Long lines of traffic inched past on U. S. Highway 30 Monday as the more than 1,000 motorists stranded by a sudden weekend snowstorm resumed their journeys along the transcontinental highway.

The storm, which struck with savage fury Sunday, left 8 to 10 inches of snow on U. S. 30 at Green River, Wyo., 17 miles east of here, and more than 13 inches at Lander, 110 miles to the northeast.

Little America, with a population of 105, was the refuge of between 500-800 motorists and truck drivers during the night. More than 500 others were stranded in Rock Springs, 32 miles to the east. At Rock Springs they stayed in private homes, schools, gymnasiums and the National Guard Armory to wait out the storm.

Among the travelers stranded here was Sen. J. J. Hickey, D-Wyo., who was en route from Rock Springs to Lyman, Wyo., for a speech Sunday when he and his traveling companion, Wyoming State Rep. William G. (Bill) Rector of Cheyenne, found they could go no further.

Hickey and Rector spent the night at the Little America hotel here. They arrived in time to get a room, but many others were less fortunate.

The hotel management put 100-120 people to bed on the dining room floor, and others were sent to homes of hotel employes to spend the night. The hotel used every blanket, sheet and pillow it had, and still there were not enough.

U. S. 30 was opened to emergency traffic at 1:45 a.m. Monday and to normal traffic later in the morning. However, it was still icy and hazardous.

Flies 3,000 Miles, Stays 14 Minutes

President Praises Rayburn's Courage In Face Of Death

DALLAS (AP)—President Kennedy went 3,000 miles out of his way Monday to spend 14 minutes trying to cheer up House Speaker Sam Rayburn, seriously ill with cancer.

As the President left the hospital, he told newsmen: "We had a good conversation. I was happy to have a good chance to talk with him.

"He's sick, of course, but I was glad I could be with him. He was in good spirits and showed courage enough for anybody."

No one was with the President when he saw Rayburn, who already was an outstanding congressman at the time Kennedy was born.

The President spoke with Rayburn, then went to talk with the doctors and members of the family and returned again to talk with Rayburn.

At 4:21 p.m. Kennedy quickly left the hospital.

He was driven rapidly to Love Field to go back to Washington.

In Dallas 75 Minutes

In all he was in Dallas for only an hour and 15 minutes.

Shortly before Kennedy went up the ramp to his big plane, the Rev. Baxton Bryant, former pastor of the Elmwood Methodist Church in Dallas, told the President: "I appreciate your coming to Dallas."

According to Bryant, Kennedy replied: "I could do no less, but it is very sorrowful because of the illness of Mr. Rayburn. We know that all the nation is praying for him. Let us hope for the best."

It was a gloomy afternoon in Dallas.

It had rained hard earlier in the day, and a light rain was still falling when the big presidential plane came in.

But Kennedy came down the ramp without a hat or coat, and quickly got into his car for a drive to the hospital.

President Changes Planes

Originally Kennedy had intended to go straight back to Washington from his weekend in Newport, R.I. But this morning—possibly because he had been told that Rayburn was feeling more alert—he changed his plans.

Kennedy took the long trip to Texas for just a few minutes with the politician who has earned the title "Mr. Democrat."

Kennedy scarcely paused before starting the seven-mile drive from Love Field to Baylor University Medical Center.

There in room 729 Rayburn, 79, is waging the hardest fight of his long career.

Cancer has moved through his body so that there's no hope of recovery. Rayburn began getting daily injections of a special drug Sunday, but it can only slow down, or possibly halt the steady spread of cancer.

Souvanna Runs Into Laos Delay

HIN HEUP, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, who campaigned a long time to gain nomination as the new premier of Laos, will have to wait a bit longer than expected for King Savang Vathana's blessing.

Premier Prince Boun Oum, the rightist whom Souvanna is driving to succeed, touched the brakes lightly Monday.

Boun Oum was one of two men Souvanna commissioned at this village on the jungle kingdom's cease-fire line to see the king at Luang Probang, the royal capital, and arrange an audience Tuesday for the premier-designate. The other man was Souvanna's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

But it was announced in Vientiane, the administrative capital, that Boun Oum isn't leaving until Monday for Luang Probang, 140 miles north of that city. No reason was given for the delay.

That means Souvanna, who needs the formality of royal approval, will not be received by the king before Wednesday at the earliest.

Brown Thinks Nixon Would Yield To Draft

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California Gov. Edmund G. Brown said Monday he thought former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would "succumb" to a Republican draft for president in 1964.

The governor said he thought Nixon's avowal to serve out the full four-year term if elected governor — thus passing up the 1964 presidential race—would be forgotten by Nixon.

Restaurant Integration Called "Good Business"

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP) — Restaurant owners, along with business and civic leaders, were told Monday that establishments along U.S. 40 can be integrated without economic loss.

Berl Bernhard, staff director of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, said even in cities where there has been a long history of segregation, "eating facilities and other facilities of public accommodation have been opened to all."

Bernhard, speaking for President Kennedy, made his remarks at a meeting here to which some 75 persons were invited by the State Department in an attempt to end segregation in restaurants along the 48-mile corridor northeast of Baltimore to the Delaware State line.

Newsmen covering the meeting were asked to leave after introductory remarks by Bernhard. A White House representative, Robert Greene, said the restaurant owners had asked that the press not be permitted to attend so that they could discuss the matter more freely.

Most of the restauratuers present said they made no such request and this was the first time they had heard the press was to be barred. But all communications personnel were cleared from the hall and the meeting was held behind closed doors.

The gathering was sponsored by the White House, State Department and Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations.

Among those attending were Pedro Sanjuan, chief of protocol for the State Department and U.S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings.

Greene said the meeting was "called rapidly in an attempt to think out the real problem involved in a desegregation." The State Department has claimed U.S. 40 incidents involving African diplomats have injured United States foreign relations.

After a similar meeting held here two weeks ago, a Nigerian diplomat said he was refused service at a U.S. 40 restaurant although he showed his credentials.

The modern elevator and the elevator industry came into being at the World's Fair in New York in 1854.

Tenn. Cautions High Court On Reapportioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—An attorney for Tennessee told the Supreme Court Monday that if it steps into a controversy involving reapportionment of the Tennessee Legislature, it would paralyze state government.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Jack Wilson contended that the case could result in a finding that all Tennessee legislative acts since 1901 are invalid.

Already, he said, several criminals awaiting execution have challenged the legality of laws under which they were convicted and sentenced. As a result, he said, the governor of Tennessee has suspended further executions until "it is determined if Tennessee may execute a criminal."

Further, he said, questions have been raised as to the legality of Tennessee's municipal bonds and as to the legality of the legislature's impeachment and convicment and conviction of a state judge.

A group of Tennessee City voters is contending that its rights under the 14th amendment were violated and its voting power diluted because the legislature since 1901 has refused to reapportion the state's legislative seats on a population basis even though directed by the state constitution to do so every 10 years.

They contend that rural areas, with one-third of the voters, elect and control two-thirds of the state's legislative seats.

Although this explosive case of rural vs. city control of state legislatures involves only Tennessee, the result would effect other states with reapportionment troubles.

Attorneys representing the taxpayers said the present unequal reapportionment of states' legislators as between urban and rural areas has become a national tragedy, and it is a "rotten situation."

Charles S. Rhyne, representing the urban voters, told the court that the only way to restore governmental integrity was to restore equal voting rights.

"Legislatures are not going to do anything about it," he said. "We are at the end of the road. The only way we can get relief is through this court."

Tax Assessment Policy Challanged

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Baltimore County property owner has filed an appeal to the Maryland Tax Court against the state's assessment procedures which may be of state-wide consequence.

In the appeal, William E. Pyne, of Towson, is asking that his assessment be reduced to the lowest level existing in the state.

If the argument he used prevails, the decision could result in wholesale reductions of assessments, particularly in the Baltimore metropolitan area.

Pyne contended that because assessment levels differ throughout Maryland, contrary to law, the value set by local tax officials on his property was "illegal."

He asked specifically that his assessment be lowered from almost 58 per cent of market value to 45 per cent, the level in St. Mary's County.

U.S. Has Sufficient Coal For 1,442 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has enough coal in the ground to keep producing for 1,442 years at the rate of recent times, the Interior Department said Monday.

The geological survey estimated reserves of recoverable coal at 830 billion tons as of Jan. 1, 1960, or some 1,442 times the recent annual production.

The huge coal tonnage was broken down into 47 per cent bituminous, 25.5 per cent sub-bituminous, 26 per cent lignite and 1.5 per cent anthracite and semi-anthracite.

About 60 per cent of the reserves of higher rank bituminous coal and anthracite were located east of the Mississippi River.

Illinois and West Virginia together accounted for 254,000 million tons, for about 31 per cent of the total reserves of bituminous coal.

Pennsylvania had 88 per cent of the anthracite, or 22,805 million tons.

Alpine Death Toll 268

ROME (AP)—The Alps claimed the lives of at least 268 climbers in the six-month season now closing, a survey shows. That is 22 above the 1960 toll, but well below the record of 385 set in the stormy 1957 season.

C&O Ends Case For B&O Control; Challenges NYC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Monday concluded its case for control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad by challenging a major point of objection raised by the New York Central Railroad.

As an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner wound up eight weeks of hearings in the case, the C & O presented transportation consultant Charles J. Meyer of Hanover, N. J., as a rebuttal witness.

Meyer questioned earlier testimony that $23.4 million a year could be saved in operating expenses if New York Central were allowed to enter the consolidation picture.

R. R. Manion, assistant to the New York Central president, had used that figure in urging that his firm be allowed to gain control of B & O or to join C & O in gaining such control.

Through close cross-examination by New York Central attorney Robert J. Brooks, Meyer said Manion had overstated savings which could result from New York Central participation.

Meyer added that some of the consolidation features proposed by Manion would be impractical and that other features would give New York Central disproporionate benefits.

The transportation consultant was called after labor union leaders testified about job depletions which would result from consolidating the B & O with either C & O or New York Central, or both.

Some labor leaders said more than 1,000 workers would be thrown out of work under the C & O proposal. They also said hundreds of others would be transferred, including 600 C & O employes from Richmond, Va., to Huntington, W. Va.

Hearing examiner John L. Bradford gave attorneys until Dec. 15 to submit briefs, which he will study along with testimony before making a recommendation.

ATLANTA (UPI)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver Monday handed the 1962 state legislature the decision whether a 15-year-old Negro boy should die in Georgia's electric chair.

Mrs. Robert Rothenhoefer keeps track of phone calls— finds her telephone saves her $12.15 in two weeks

Baron "listens in" as Mrs. Rothenhoefer uses her kitchen extension to summon a repairman. This call saved her a 20-minute drive.

19 hours . . . 177 miles of traveling . . . $12.15!

These are the savings reported to us by Mrs. Rothenhoefer, of Frederick, after she had kept a two-week record of her telephone calls—estimating the time, travel and money each call saved.

The totals are impressive—and a surprise to Mrs. Rothenhoefer. She says, "I'm amazed to see just how much running around town our phone saves. I'm afraid I had no idea what an important part the telephone plays in our family's daily life, until now."

What would a telephone record show in your home? Chances are you'd find, too . . . that your telephone gives you far more than it costs.

Gunman Robs Supermarket

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — A lone gunman slipped into a supermarket just before opening time Monday, chained and handcuffed 13 employes and deliverymen, then escaped with $1,000 from the safe.

Police said the gunman was dressed in Army fatigues and tennis shoes and wearing dark sunglasses. He carred a cloth handbag filled with more than a dozen sets of handcuffs and a 10-foot length of chain.

Kidnaper Wins Another Trial

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Monday the conviction and life sentence given a man charged in a Virginia kidnaping two years ago.

The appeals court ordered a new trial for James Edward Hall. The reversal was on the ground that the question of Hall's sanity should have been presented to the jury.

The case was tried by Judge Albert V. Bryan in federal district court in Alexandria.

Hall and a friend, Connie Ellis Plott, escaped from a convict road gang in Fairfax County on July 21, 1959.

Authorities said they entered the home of Peter Martin Nielson of McLean July 23, took $50 from Nielson's wallet, then forced him to accompany them in Nielson's car.

The trip went through Maryland, New Jersey, Ohio and West Virginia before ending near Washington, Pa. Nielson was unharmed physically. He was given back his car July 25 and allowed to leave.

Hall and Plott were apprehended later that day.

U. Md. Fraternity On Probation For Rules Infraction

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The University of Maryland chapter of Theta Chi, national social fraternity, has been placed on probation for an indefinite period by its national president because of infractions of university regulations, the university announced Monday.

The infraction, using alcoholic beverages on the campus, occurred at the chapter house Sept. 30 during a scheduled social function.

At the same time, the national office of the fraternity appointed an alumni control committee to administer the operation and affairs of the group during the probationary period.

The actions were taken after an investigation of a report of the rules infraction and a hearing with fraternity members held by the university's faculty senate committee on discipline.

As a result of the faculty hearing, the committee suspended for one semester the president of Alpha Psi, the local Theta Chi chapter, and placed each member on probation for the same period.

University regulations governing organized campus social events prohibits the presence or use of alcoholic beverages in fraternity or sorority houses as well as any other building on the campus.

The 10th anniversary of the Cumberland club was celebrated at a dinner Saturday evening in the grill room of the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Mrs. Elizabeth Bostian Moorefield, governor of the South Atlantic Region, was guest speaker. Discussing the 40th anniversary of Soroptimism, the speaker urged all to "rededicate ourselves to these principles and to interpret our object in programs that enlarge our understanding of the major issues of our times and to mobilize our abilities to cope with them."

Reminding her audience that the theme for the year is "Looking Further, with New Initiative and a Clear Sense of Purpose," Mrs. Moorefield suggested Soroptimist "seekout a youth in South Atlantic Region worthy of the Youth Achievement Awards of $2,500 each, that will be presented at the Federation Convention next July."

Stressing that club program emphasis should be channeled toward international, civic and public affairs, rather than on helping underprivileged only, Mrs. Moorefield cautioned that "overprivileged youth is fast presenting problems of concern." She suggested members should set an example of good citizenship, by informed participation in public affairs; intelligent voting; be active, alert people to civil defense; public office; and responsibility; study and analyze communism to combat it; study the ways of government; work to modernize election laws and stress training in American ideals for those selling democracy abroad.

Goren On Bridge

The hand diagram presented above may appear to hold little interest on a casual examination. The bidding sequence is completely routine and after the perfectly normal lead of the jack of diamonds declarer should experience no trouble in making five spades, losing only the king of clubs and the ace of hearts.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♦

It might prove interesting for the reader, before proceeding further, to see if he can figure out how East and West managed to administer an upset.

South won the jack of diamonds with the king and promptly drew three rounds of trumps. He then led the ten of clubs for the finesse. East won the king, and it was quite apparent that the heart suit must be attacked. Risking but an extra trick in the process, East went out to effect an upset by leading the queen of hearts. If West held the king this lead would be as effective as the ace. If West lacked that card, then the contract could not be defeated. However, with the lead things happen, and they did.

South realized that he must win a heart trick if he were to avoid failure. If East is leading from the queen-jack, South must play low, and if East is leading frompi low, and if East continues with the jack, declarer covers and sets up the ten. If East's second heart lead is a low one, declarer ducks and West will have to put up his ace to win the trick.

South decided to pass as if East had made the normal lead from the queen-jack and he ducked, East, in a matter of fact manner, continued with a low heart. Declarer ducked and West won with the jack. Another heart brought down the king, the house, and an outburts of expletives from declarer.

Goren On Bridge

The hand diagram presented above may appear to hold little interest on a casual examination. The bidding sequence is completely routine and after the perfectly normal lead of the jack of diamonds declarer should experience no trouble in making five spades, losing only the king of clubs and the ace of hearts.

♣ 10 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♦

It might prove interesting for the reader, before proceeding further, to see if he can figure out how East and West managed to administer an upset.

South won the jack of diamonds with the king and promptly drew three rounds of trumps. He then led the ten of clubs for the finesse. East won the king, and it was quite apparent that the heart suit must be attacked. Risking but an extra trick in the process, East went out to effect an upset by leading the queen of hearts. If West held the king this lead would be as effective as the ace. If West lacked that card, then the contract could not be defeated. However, with the lead things happen, and they did.

South realized that he must win a heart trick if he were to avoid failure. If East is leading from the queen-jack, South must play low, and if East is leading frompi low, and if East continues with the jack, declarer covers and sets up the ten. If East's second heart lead is a low one, declarer ducks and West will have to put up his ace to win the trick.

South decided to pass as if East had made the normal lead from the queen-jack and he ducked. East, in a matter of fact manner, continued with a low heart. Declarer ducked and West won with the jack. Another heart brought down the king, the house, and an outburts of expletives from declarer.

Soroptimist Club Meets Tonight

Reports on the area meeting in Hagerstown Saturday will be given at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland Soroptimist Club, to be held tonight at 7:30 at the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Mrs. Blanche Mantell will preside. The reports are to be given by Miss Jeanette Bonig and Miss Olive Hurlburt. At 9 o'clock, the club will tour the telephone company plant.

The 10th anniversary of the Cumberland club was celebrated at a dinner Saturday evening in the grill room of the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Mrs. Elizabeth Bostian Moorefield, governor of the South Atlantic Region, was guest speaker. Discussing the 40th anniversary of Soroptimism, the speaker urged all to "rededicate ourselves to these principles and to interpret our object in programs that enlarge our understanding of the major issues of our times and to mobilize our abilities to cope with them."

Reminding her audience that the theme for the year is "Looking Further, with New Initiative and a Clear Sense of Purpose," Mrs. Moorefield suggested Soroptimist "seekout a youth in South Atlantic Region worthy of the Youth Achievement Awards of $2,500 each, that will be presented at the Federation Convention next July."

Stressing that club program emphasis should be channeled toward international, civic and public affairs, rather than on helping underprivileged only, Mrs. Moorefield cautioned that "overprivileged youth is fast presenting problems of concern." She suggested members should set an example of good citizenship, by informed participation in public affairs; intelligent voting; be active, alert people to civil defense; public office; and responsibility; study and analyze communism to combat it; study the ways of government; work to modernize election laws and stress training in American ideals for those selling democracy abroad.

The welcome was extended by Mrs. Mantell. Recognition was paid to Miss Bonig and Miss May Tomlinson, charter members, and Dr. Lillian Compton, honorary member. Mrs. Alice DeHaven gave a resume of service objectives. Miss Hurlburt introduced the guests and Mrs. Nellie Crites offered the invocation. Mrs. Georgetta Gilford led group singing.

Other guests were Fred Anderson of the Youth commission; Mrs. Lee Miler, Miss Edith Reinhart, member of the Baltimore club; John Lindner, A. E. DeHaven, B. C. McIlwee and Paul F. Gilford. Other members attending were Mrs. Pauline Chenowith, Mrs. Jean Cioni, Mrs. Maxine Doak, Mrs. Myrtle Lafferty, Mrs. Alberta Lindner, Mrs. Thelma McIlwee, Mrs. Blance Ridgway, Mrs. Mary Beth Wheeler and Mrs. Marie Seymour.

Mrs. George Young, 744 Washington Street, and Mrs. Frederick Shafnacker, Lawrence, Kans., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferran, Bridgeport, W. Va.

Salvage Firms Must Have Bond

Any person or firm demolishing buildings for salvage or other uses will be required to carry adequate insurance or give bond before a permit will be issued, the Mayor and Council ordered yesterday.

Council acted after the Humbertson Salvage Company asked why it was required to carry insurance or furnish bond while individuals and others were allowed to operate without it. The company said the city has adopted the National Building Code which requires such insurance.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said permits had been granted—without the bond or insurance—in some instances and cited unemployed or furloughed applicants who would destroy a building with the assistance of non-paid members of their family.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said he felt this practice weakens the code which should be adhered to.

Commissioner G. Ray Light made a motion that Nuzum be instructed not to issue a demolition permit unless bond or insurance is furnished. This was passed unanimously.

Council also authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery to execute contracts with the C&P Telephone Company and State Roads Commission; the Potomac Edison Company and SRC; and the Columbia Gas System and the SRC, covering the relocation of utilities in connection with the Cumberland Thruway project. Under its terms, the parties each would be responsible for one-third of the cost. One more such agreement covering relocation of sewers is to come later.

On another thruway matter, council approved payment of $70,000 to the SRC as the sixth payment on its share of construction costs. In all, the city will pay $490,000 as its share and the next $70,000 payment will be the last on this particular phase.

City Continues Hospital Plan

Retired city employes can continue their hospitalization payments under the municipal group plan, the Mayor and Council said today.

Retired employes only will be allowed to continue in the plan if they make their monthly payments. In the event any one is two months behind in the payments, he can be dropped.

In another personnel action, council named Janet M. Kirk as temporary employe of the Water Department effective today.

Richard F. Smith was named a regular member of the Fire Department effective Wednesday.

Council also received a report from E. A. Dougherty, former garbage contractor, who last week asked additional compensation to pay his men in connection with the recent job classification and pay plan adopted by the city.

Dugherty had been asked to submit the report by Street Commissioner John J. Long and it will be considered in executive session. Dougherty claims about $1,800 in additional pay is due.

Baptist Mission Unit To Meet

Rev. J. N. Evans Jr., state secretary, Department of Missions for Maryland Baptists, will speak at a meeting of the missions committee of Western Baptist Association, Monday, October 16, at Nave's Dining Hall at 5 p. m.

Rev. T. Clifford Johnson, pastor of First Baptist Church and chairman of the group, has urged the attendance of all committee members.

Hearing Set On Injunction Against Dairy

A hearing will be held in Circuit Court on Wednesday in the petition of a group of Bedford Road residents who are seeking an injunction against the operator of a dairy and snack bar.

The petition was filed in court some some time ago against Tony Freno, who operates Ferdinand's Dairy and Snack Bar, about two and a half miles north of Cumberland on the Bedford Road.

The petitioners claim that patrons at the business place late at night create a disturbance by loud talking, spinning of auto wheels when they leave the parking area and littering of the area with paper cups and other debris which blows onto the property of the petitioners.

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey will hear the petition for an injunction.

Area Group Visits Bel Air Sanctuary

Four members of the Allegany County Branch of the Maryland Ornithological Society visited the Rock Run Sanctuary at Bel Air, over the weekend.

Miss Nan Livingstone, Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Anderson Martin, and Miss Pan Minke were entertained as guests of Mrs. Richard D. Cole, curator of the sanctuary.

The purpose of this visit was to conduct an experimental "bird banding" program. The banding was done under the direction of Mel Garland, fifth grade teacher at the Towson State Teacher College Laboratory School (and formerly of Cumberland) and C. Douglas Hackman of Lilac Lane, Towson.

The first day of banding totaled 38 birds of 17 species, and the second day over 25 birds were banded by the group. Bird banding is carried on at the sanctuary all year around but the most important times are during the Spring and Fall migrations.

The purpose of such banding of birds is to compile records on where various birds spend their winters and summers; how far birds travel on migration; and the various flyways for migrating birds.

On October 20 and 21 Miss Pan Minke, of the Allegany County Chapter will aid in a banding demonstration program at Ocean City. This program is sponsored by the Maryland Ornithological Society, who will play host to the national organization — The American Ornithological Society—plus representatives from Canada.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said he felt this practice weakens the code which should be adhered to.

Commissioner G. Ray Light made a motion that Nuzum be instructed not to issue a demolition permit unless bond or insurance is furnished. This was passed unanimously.

Council also authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery to execute contracts with the C&P Telephone Company and State Roads Commission; the Potomac Edison Company and SRC; and the Columbia Gas System and the SRC, covering the relocation of utilities in connection with the Cumberland Thruway project. Under its terms, the parties each would be responsible for one-third of the cost. One more such agreement covering relocation of sewers is to come later.

On another thruway matter, council approved payment of $70,000 to the SRC as the sixth payment on its share of construction costs. In all, the city will pay $490,000 as its share and the next $70,000 payment will be the last on this particular phase.

City Continues Hospital Plan

Retired city employes can continue their hospitalization payments under the municipal group plan, the Mayor and Council said today.

Retired employes only will be allowed to continue in the plan if they make their monthly payments. In the event any one is two months behind in the payments, he can be dropped.

In another personnel action, council named Janet M. Kirk as temporary employe of the Water Department effective today.

Richard F. Smith was named a regular member of the Fire Department effective Wednesday.

Council also received a report from E. A. Dougherty, former garbage contractor, who last week asked additional compensation to pay his men in connection with the recent job classification and pay plan adopted by the city.

Dugherty had been asked to submit the report by Street Commissioner John J. Long and it will be considered in executive session. Dougherty claims about $1,800 in additional pay is due.

Hearing Set On Injunction Against Dairy

A hearing will be held in Circuit Court on Wednesday in the petition of a group of Bedford Road residents who are seeking an injunction against the operator of a dairy and snack bar.

The petition was filed in court some some time ago against Tony Freno, who operates Ferdinand's Dairy and Snack Bar, about two and a half miles north of Cumberland on the Bedford Road.

The petitioners claim that patrons at the business place late at night create a disturbance by loud talking, spinning of auto wheels when they leave the parking area and littering of the area with paper cups and other debris which blows onto the property of the petitioners.

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey will hear the petition for an injunction.

Area Group Visits Bel Air Sanctuary

Four members of the Allegany County Branch of the Maryland Ornithological Society visited the Rock Run Sanctuary at Bel Air, over the weekend.

Miss Nan Livingstone, Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Anderson Martin, and Miss Pan Minke were entertained as guests of Mrs. Richard D. Cole, curator of the sanctuary.

The purpose of this visit was to conduct an experimental "bird banding" program. The banding was done under the direction of Mel Garland, fifth grade teacher at the Towson State Teacher College Laboratory School (and formerly of Cumberland) and C. Douglas Hackman of Lilac Lane, Towson.

The first day of banding totaled 38 birds of 17 species, and the second day over 25 birds were banded by the group. Bird banding is carried on at the sanctuary all year around but the most important times are during the Spring and Fall migrations.

The purpose of such banding of birds is to compile records on where various birds spend their winters and summers; how far birds travel on migration; and the various flyways for migrating birds.

On October 20 and 21 Miss Pan Minke, of the Allegany County Chapter will aid in a banding demonstration program at Ocean City. This program is sponsored by the Maryland Ornithological Society, who will play host to the national organization — The American Ornithological Society—plus representatives from Canada.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I started to work in a men's clothing store recently. It opened my eyes in regard to the American male.

I had no idea that about 80% of the men in this country are such morons they can't buy a suit without advice from a wife, a mother, or a girl friend. They need someone to tell them what looks good, which fabrics wear, how a suit ought to fit, and how much money they can spend.

If a man likes a certain suit and the female he brings in likes another one, you can bet he will end up with the suit SHE likes.

Please, Ann, print this letter as a protest against men bringing women in when they buy clothing. The salesmen hate it.—HOUSTON HARRY

DEAR HOUSTON: You can be sure when a man and woman come into a men's clothing store together, SHE brought him. A great many men would never buy a suit or a coat if they had to shop alone.

The woman who cares enough about her man to shop with him demonstrates genuine interest. This is a compliment and no man should resent it. I phoned several salesmen before I wrote this reply. One said, "I don't like to see a wife come in with her husband because I know I can't sell HIM last year's dog."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Three years ago I married a widow. Her son is now 24 and he lives with us.

Both my wife and stepson work. He makes at least as much money as I do. (I am a fireman.) They put their checks away and I pay all the bills. The boy buys his own clothes and keeps his car up. Last month the telephone bill was $28. The kid made several long distance calls to his girl. I told my wife I thought he should pay the bill. She said it was the responsibility of the husband to pay ALL household bills.

What do you think of this setup? — B.H.

DEAR B.H.: Not much. When a husband and wife both work the checks should be pooled and the expenses shared.

And a 24-year-old is no "kid"—he's a grown man. Not only should he be paying for his own long distance telephone calls, but he should fork over at least 25% of his pay check.

DEAR ANN: You may think I'm crazy to write about Christmas now but I want to be prepared in advance.

Our 14-year-old daughter is fascinated with her aunt Mazie and wants to visit her during Christmas vacation. Mazie is my wife's youngest sister. She has been divorced twice and is now living with a well-to-do gambler in Detroit. They live like millionaires and I'm sure the glamor would appeal to our daughter.

When Mazie was here she told our daughter that marriage is for suckers and smart girls live with men until the shine wears off, then they shove off for "greener pastures." Mazie drinks like a fish and has served time for forging checks.

I'm opposed to letting our daughter make this trip but my wife feels she should see all sides of life. I need your help.—TWO TO ONE

DEAR TWO TO: No teen-ager should visit in the home of an unmarried couple. By sending her, you condone aunt Mazie's indecent design for living. Tell your daughter she can't visit people who have such shabby standards of morality.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Council Gives Approval For Mobile Home Court

The Mayor and Council approved an application for a mobile home court on Homestead Avenue yesterday but the enterprise will be subject to rules and regulations which are being prepared.

The applicant is Roy Rodenhauser who has 11 lots covering one and a half acres for the mobile home court.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder recommended accepting the proposal with the understanding it be subject to new regulations being prepared. Street Commissioner John J. Long said he favored definite controls and said "it is a shame we do not have an ordinance so we can act on it today as the applicant wants us to."

Mayor J. Edwin Keech pointed out rules and regulations are being set up for this particular permit.

Last week, Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming objected to the permit and yesterday said he felt "legally obligated" to do so." However, as the motion stands, he went along with the unanimous approval yesterday.

Council also discussed a snow removal ordinance which it held up last week because its wording made "any" street subject to removal of cars when snow reaches a depth of two inches or more.

Commissioner Long said it is apparent all agree on the need for a snow removal ordinance but that question is where to put parked vehicles. That is a traffic problem, he said, adding "All we are asking is an ordinance so we can get the snow out." Long also added that enforcement is a matter of common sense.

Police Commissioner Fleming said it is not a matter of one department having to decide but one where all five of the city officials must work it out. He favored a meeting but said it would be better to have an ordinance prior to the meeting rather than a long session with no proposed law to govern snow removal.

Long urged council again to set a time for the meeting because "We want to be ready when snow comes."

Ridgeley Man Given Award By Navy Unit

Harold J. Jewell, a machine operator for Cumberland Steel Company, has been selected by officers of Naval Reserve Surface Division 5-9 as "Sailor of the Month."

Jewell, of 5 Potomac Heights, Ridgeley, was chosen on the basis of advancement in rating, application to duties, leadership, military bearing and drill attendance. He holds the rating of Boatswain's Mate second class in the local division.

He is a veteran of the Korean War, having served three years. He was stationed aboard the U.S.S. Mississippi (EAG 128), an experimental auxiliary gunnery ship, which operated in the Atlantic out of Norfolk, Va.

Jewell, leadership co-ordinator for enlisted men in the local unit, has been in the Naval Reserve 10 years. Currently he instructs seaman members of the division.

A graduate of Ridgeley High School, he is one of the original members of the local division and was one of two non-rated men called from here to active duty in the Korean conflict.

Jewell is married to the former Patricia Ann Norton. The couple has two children, a boy 11, and girl, 6.

Thieves Take Safes, Abandon Empty One

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—Thieves carted off one safe containing $3,000 and abandoned another in an alley. They must have been clairvoyant about the second one. There was no money inside.

Both safes weighed 500 pounds.

The missing one was from a bowling establishment and Franklin R. Turner, the owner, reported it contained week-end receipts.

Thieves Take Safes, Abandon Empty One

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—Thieves carted off one safe containing $3,000 and abandoned another in an alley. They must have been clairvoyant about the second one. There was no money inside.

Both safes weighed 500 pounds. The missing one was from a bowling establishment and Franklin R. Turner, the owner, reported it contained week-end receipts.

The safe left behind was removed from a weather proofing concern.

Keyser AAUW Is Studying Foreign Policy

Norman E. Rodgers Guest Speaker

KEYSER—The Keyser Branch of the American Association of University Women met at the home of Mrs. Vernon Staggers, Limestone Road. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Phillip Staggers, Miss Mary Shipper, and Miss Helen Criner.

New members are Mrs. Alice Lee, Mrs. Clara Kauffman, Mrs. J. P. Judy, Mrs. W. W. Harvey, and Mrs. Nancy Beamer.

Norman E. Rodgers, head of the history department of Potomac State College, gave the first of a series of talks on American Foreign Relations since World War II, in which he stated that U. S. foreign policy and domestic policy are closely allied. In spite of changes in the administration and changes in emphasis, certain values have persisted, namely:

"We are an independent nation and we mean to remain independent. We attach importance to individual freedom and we mean to be free, We are a peaceful people and we want to be rid of war. We have a high standard of living and we want to raise it higher. We are a friendly people and we want to be friendly with other peoples. We have no traditional enemies."

Mr. Rodgers brought out that since World War II the Soviet Union has been a threat to peace, by taking advantage of situations of weakness. To combat this threat the U. S. has endeavored to build up situations of strength in many areas of the world. "Our policy has been to take action compatible to the UN charter, to pool military strength, to enable free nations to trade, and to promote the free flow of ideas and information," he explained.

"The U. S.," he said, "in realizing its responsibility toward the hungry, homeless, diseased, and illiterate of the world, has tried to build an international community through some policies devised after the Second World War, such as an organization of nations for military strength, the Truman Doctrine of containment, the Marshall Plan, and the Point Four Policy for technical assistance.

The second of the studies of American Foreign Policy will deal with Africa.

Total school enrollment in the U.S. in 1961-62 was 1,800,000 more than enrolled in 1960. Kindergarten and elementary enrollment was up 44 per cent.

Six Admitted To Hospital After Mishaps

KEYSER — Six persons were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital here over the weekend with injuries incurred in three separate automobile accidents.

George O'Dell Dotson, 24, of Riverside, N.J., and his half-brother, Roy Eugene Mullins, 29, also of Riverside, were hurt in a mishap about 8 miles east of here on U.S. Route 50, about 6:30 a. m. yesterday.

James Russell Bonner, 24, of Mt. Storm, his brother, Max Julian Bonner, 21, also of Mt. Storm, and Christopher Scripp, 24, of Bayard, were hurt in an accident shortly after midnight Saturday on U.S. Route 50, just east of Hartmansville.

Edison Broadwater, 14, of RD 1, Westernport, suffered injuries in a mishap Saturday at 10:30 p.m. in front of his home.

Dotson was operating his late model sports car east on Route 50 in heavy fog and failed to negotiate a left hand turn. The car left the highway and plowed into a small stream.

Both he and Mullins were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital where their conditions are listed as "satisfactory".

West Virginia State Police, who investigated, said Dotson sustained chest injuries and an abrasion of the chin. Mullins, they said, suffered a severe finger laceration.

Police said Dotson will be charged with hazardous driving. Approximately $700 property damage was caused, police added.

James Bonner was driving his automobile west on U.S. 50 when he failed to negotiate a sharp turn. The vehicle went into a a field, rammed into a utility pole, rolled over several times and tore out some fencing on the property of Walter Burgess.

Police said the driver sustained lacerations of the ear, chin and multiple abrasions and contusions. He was released Sunday afternoon.

Max Bonner had contusions of the right hand and several abrasions. He also has been released.

Scripp, another passenger, suffered severe lacerations of the forehead near his left eye, multiple contusions and abrasions. He is reported in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital.

Police said the driver will be charged with hazardous driving. They reported that the car was demolished.

Young Broadwater reportedly sustained a fracture of the right lower arm when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into a parked car near his home Saturday night.

School enrollment in the U.S. increased 51 per cent in the last decade.

Six Admitted To Hospital After Mishaps

KEYSER — Six persons were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital here over the weekend with injuries incurred in three separate automobile accidents.

George O'Dell Dotson, 24, of Riverside, N.J., and his half-brother, Roy Eugene Mullins, 29, also of Riverside, were hurt in a mishap about 8 miles east of here on U.S. Route 50, about 6:30 a. m. yesterday.

James Russell Bonner, 24, of Mt. Storm, his brother, Max Julian Bonner, 21, also of Mt. Storm, and Christopher Scripp, 24, of Bayard, were hurt in an accident shortly after midnight Saturday on U.S. Route 50, just east of Hartmansville.

Edison Broadwater, 14, of RD 1, Westernport, suffered injuries in a mishap Saturday at 10:30 p.m. in front of his home.

Dotson was operating his late model sports car east on Route 50 in heavy fog and failed to negotiate a left hand turn. The car left the highway and plowed into a small stream.

Both he and Mullins were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital where their conditions are listed as "satisfactory".

West Virginia State Police, who investigated, said Dotson sustained chest injuries and an abrasion of the chin. Mullins, they said, suffered a severe finger laceration.

Police said Dotson will be charged with hazardous driving. Approximately $700 property damage was caused, police added.

James Bonner was driving his automobile west on U.S. 50 when he failed to negotiate a sharp turn. The vehicle went into a a field, rammed into a utility pole, rolled over several times and tore out some fencing on the property of Walter Burgess.

Police said the driver sustained lacerations of the ear, chin and multiple abrasions and contusions. He was released Sunday afternoon.

Max Bonner had contusions of the right hand and several abrasions. He also has been released.

Scripp, another passenger, suffered severe lacerations of the forehead near his left eye, multiple contusions and abrasions. He is reported in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital.

Police said the driver will be charged with hazardous driving. They reported that the ar was demolished.

Young Broadwater reportedly sustained a fracture of the right lower arm when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into a parked car near his home Saturday night.

School enrollment in the U.S. increased 51 per cent in the last decade.

Grand Jurors Did Not Indict Barton Woman

Mrs. Frances A. Elliott, 34-year-old Barton area woman who was charged in the shooting of her husband in August, was not indicted by the October term of the Allegany County grand jury.

Mrs. Elliott was charged in connection with a shooting incident in which her husband, Warren R. Elliott, 36, received a .22 calibre wound in the back.

It was reported Mr. Elliott appeared before the grand jury and appealed to the jurors not to take action against his wife.

After being arrested, Mrs. Elliott told authorities she shot her husband while he was fighting with Gene Llewellyn, 22, also of near Barton.

Llewellyn reportedly had gone to the Elliott home to tell the family he had married Mr. and Mrs. Elliott's 15-year-old daughter.

When Elliott learned his daughter was married, he became angry with her, Mrs. Elliott told authorities. She said Llewellyn stepped in to protect his young wife, and then the two men got into a fight.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9 - Straight from Stockholm, I get word that Ingrid Thulin isn't sitting around to hear about the reaction to "The Four Horsemen of The Apocalypse," in which she makes her American film debut. I hear, however, she is a joy to behold in it.

The cooly beautiful Miss Thulin started to work yesterday (Monday) in a new production for Sweden's top moviemaker Ingemar Bergman, who discovered Ingrid originally. Bergman calls this one, "Mountain of Silence," though I understand it deals with considerable violence.

After Ingrid completes this, she is scheduled to do Shaw's "Major Barbara," followed by Faulkner's "Requiem for A Nun," both on the Stockholm stage. So, considering that MGM has an option on her services, and that her young husband is a millionaire, I'd say Ingrid is sitting very pretty.

C. J. Tevlin, once associated with RKO, who always was smart, is proving it by the story and the star he has selected to mark his return to motion picture production.

The star is Eleanor Parker, that beautiful performer, and the story is the highly dramatic and true one of Marion Miller, who worked for the F.B.I. while pretending to be a Communist. She wrote a book called "I was a Spy" and that is what Tevlin has bought.

Eleanor, who will, naturally, play Mrs. Miller, leaves for Washington November 1st to start an indoctrination course in the dangerous art of spying. Then she goes to New York before she returns here for the film which will start around the first of the year.

While we grumble about smog and ninety degree temperatures, the "Adventures of a Young Man" company is freezing it out in Ironwood, Michigan.

They went there for Indian summer, and what they have so far is nothing but snow. Arthur Kennedy, nursing a terrible toothache, has to work under sedation. Paul Newman is trying to get all his big scenes shot first, so he can come back here next week to Joanne Woodward and their new baby. Dick Beymer and Diane Baker are the only players who have ventured out into the bitter cold, and they have been mobbed by the townspeople.

Director Marty Ritt and the whole troupe will be glad when they return to our hot smog - and will Jerry Wald be glad to see them.

That veteran of the boxing ring, Mushy Callahan, who was formerly under contract to Warners, has been engaged by the Mirisch Bros. to get Elvis Presley in top condition for his prize fight role in "Kid Gallahad."

After sizing up Elvis before the singer left for a vacation in Memphis, Mushy said, "actually, the kid's been fairly well toughened up by all that exercise with the guitar, but wait until I finish with him at the training camp we're setting up for him at Idlewild" - where much of the movie will be filmed.

When I used to go to prize fights and wrestling matches years ago, I always enjoyed watching Mushy, a referee.

The little Italian village of Castelaneta where Rudolph Valentino, the first of the great movie lovers, was born, is going all out to become a tourists mecca. They've had a $2500 statue of Rudy as "The Sheik" erected in the town square. They've taken over the house, where he was born and turned it into a shrine.

If Rudy were still alive, I know he'd be amused. Just once, after he became famous, he returned to Castelaneta - and not a soul recognized him. I always had the idea, however, that eventually Rudy would have retired there, and only his untimely death at the age of thirty-one prevented this.

Ridgeley Poster Winners Announced

Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company last night announced the winners of its annual poster contest which is held in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

Theresa Bradley, a sixth grade student at Ridgeley Elementary School, won first prize for her poster titled, "Help Us, We Can't Prevent Forest Fires." Her poster depicted a tree with wildlife around it.

The other contest winner was Sue Andrews, a fourth grade pupil. Her poster showed an overloaded electric socket and was titled "Fire Hazard."

The winning students each received a season ticket to all of Ridgeley High School's basketball games.

The contest was judged by three members of the fire company. Some 40 students entered the poster contest.

Seven Divorces Granted In Court

Seven divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Rosemary Elaine Martin was granted a divorce from Blake C. Martin and custody of their three minor children. James Nelson Willison obtained a divorce from Ruth Frances Willison. Margaret A. Laber Helmick was given a divorce from Robert A. Helmick and the right to resume use of her former name of Margaret A. Laber. Esther A. Mason was granted a divorce from James J. 793 Arrests Made During September

The Fire Department answered 32 calls during the month. Damage was reported minor.

Many Offer

but they've had lots of help from people in all walks of life.

Pharmacists of the Allegany-Garrett County Pharmaceutical Society, headed by Joseph Eshelman, president, and F. L. (Gene) Judy, polio vaccine chairman, will set up the stations, dilute the vaccine, and generally keep things running.

They're devoting much of their own time and a lot of effort to the project.

So are the nurses of the area, headed by Miss Jeanne Dauphin. They'll be spending their off-duty hours at the centers, handing each person a small cup of distilled water containing two drops of vaccine.

Dr. W. Ross Cameron, deputy state health officer for the county, has volunteered his services and those of the county health nurses.

Donating Services

Memorial Hospital is donating the services of its student nurses to keep important records at the centers.

The drug stores will help out by distributing forms this week to people who need them.

PTA presidents, led by Mrs. Benjamin R. Lewis Jr., president of the Allegany County Council of PTAs, are busy lining up volunteer lay workers to handle the clerical duties at the schools and dispensing centers. So are the presidents and special chairmen of a number of other organizations.

Queen City Brewery is donating a couple of hundred gallons of distilled water for diluting the vaccine. The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce is arranging free transportation for anyone who needs a ride to dispensing centers. A committee of bakery and dairy operators headed by Lewis J. Ort will provide refreshments for workers at the centers.

With all this help, the workers are expecting to have even more success than they had with the first-dose program in June, when more than 38,000 persons took the vaccine here.

"We asked for help and we're certainly getting it," they said.

Card Party Set

The Ladies of St. Ambrose Catholic Church, Cresaptown, will conduct a card party at 8 p. m. today at the parish house. There will be prizes and refreshments.

Cass Railroad Set-Up To Cost Half Million

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—It may be two years or more before the old Cass railroad in Pocahontas County is converted into a new West Virginia tourist attraction.

Natural Resources Director Warden M. Lane said Monday that negotiations for land and equipment purchases in connection with the former logging operation probably will be completed within 10 days.

However, Lane said approximately $150,000 allocated by the Legislature for the purchase has nearly been used up. About $142,000 has been spent for land purchases.

Lane estimated that nearly $400,000 would be needed to put the operation in first-class condition as a tourist lure. This includes construction of eating facilities and restrooms, as well as repairs to the railroad itself.

The director indicated efforts would be made to get private enterprise to aid in the promotion in order that the state would not be burdened with the entire operation.

Plans Display

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will enter an industrial display at the Home Show planned here Thursday through Saturday by the Cumberland Jaycees.

Population shifts pose many problems for U.S. educational systems.

Utility Worker Turns In Alarm

South Cumberland Fire Company extinguished a grass fire at the intersection of Fourth Street and Wempe Drive yesterday afternoon.

The alarm was called in to Central Fire Company by the local gas company after one of its service men discovered the blaze and radioed to the utility's headquarters.

Water consumption here last week averaged 11,914,000 gallons daily, a heavy drop from last year's 14,805,000. Lake Gordon was down five feet Sunday and Lake Koon had dropped 10 feet below its spillway.

Grand Jurors Did Not Indict Barton Woman

Mrs. Frances A. Elliott, 34-year-old Barton area woman who was charged in the shooting of her husband in August, was not indicted by the October term of the Allegany County grand jury.

Mrs. Elliott was charged in connection with a shooting incident in which her husband, Warren R. Elliott, 36, received a .22 calibre wound in the back.

It was reported Mr. Elliott appeared before the grand jury and appealed to the jurors not to take action against his wife.

After being arrested, Mrs. Elliott told authorities she shot her husband while he was fighting with Gene Llewellyn, 22, also of near Barton.

Llewellyn reportedly had gone to the Elliott home to tell the family he had married Mr. and Mrs. Elliott's 15-year-old daughter.

When Elliott learned his daughter was married, he became angry with her, Mrs. Elliott told authorities. She said Llewellyn stepped in to protect his young wife, and then the two men got into a fight.

Area Foresters Will Attend Field Day

W. A. C. Irwin, district forester, said yesterday that he and assistant district forester of Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties plan to attend the second annual Tri-State Forestry Field Day Thursday, October 19 near Hancock.

The district forester said the event will be held on the Augustus B. Ruppenthal Tree Farm in Fulton County Pa., on the Mason-Dixon line on Pennsylvania Route 928 which connects with Maryland Route 615.

The field day will begin at 1 p. m., according to Mr. Irwin, who said the second annual Tri-State Tree Farm dedication ceremony will be held in conjunction with the afternoon program being sponsored by the Tree Farm Committees of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia and the Hancock Bank.

Conway Robinson, farm editor of a Baltimore radio station, will be master of ceremonies on the program including:

Presentation of signs and certificates of membership in the American Tree Farm System to a group of woodland owners who have demonstrated their ability to grow trees as a crop.

Presentation of $250 in cash prizes to eight winners in the annual tree planting contest given by the bank.

A talk, "Trees and the Tri-State Economy," by Ralph C. Wible, Pennsylvania state forester.

Contests of logging skills by woods workers, and forestry demonstrations and tours of the host Tree Farm to see the results of good forest management practices.

Expecting to attend along with Mr. Irwin are Harry Hartman, assistant district forester of Allegany Conuty; Paul Mateer and Arthur Morrill, Garrett; Tunis Lyon, Washington, and Frederick Rooney, Frederick County.

A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, is also expected to be on hand for the field day events.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9 - Straight from Stockholm, I get word that Ingrid Thulin isn't sitting around to hear about the reaction to "The Four Horsemen of The Apocalypse," in which she makes her American film debut. I hear, however, she is a joy to behold in it.

The cooly beautiful Miss Thulin started to work yesterday (Monday) in a new production for Sweden's top moviemaker Ingemar Bergman, who discovered Ingrid originally. Bergman calls this one, "Mountain of Silence," though I understand it deals with considerable violence.

After Ingrid completes this, she is scheduled to do Shaw's "Major Barbara," followed by Faulkner's "Requiem for A Nun," both on the Stockholm stage. So, considering that MGM has an option on her services, and that her young husband is a millionaire, I'd say Ingrid is sitting very pretty.

C. J. Tevlin, once associated with RKO, who always was smart, is proving it by the story and the star he has selected to mark his return to motion picture production.

The star is Eleanor Parker, that beautiful performer, and the story is the highly dramatic and true one of Marion Miller, who worked for the F.B.I. while pretending to be a Communist. She wrote a book called "I was a Spy" and that is what Tevlin has bought.

Eleanor, who will, naturally, play Mrs. Miller, leaves for Washington November 1st to start an indoctrination course in the dangerous art of spying. Then she goes to New York before she returns here for the film which will start around the first of the year.

While we grumble about smog and ninety degree temperatures, the "Adventures of a Young Man" company is freezing it out in Ironwood, Michigan.

They went there for Indian summer, and what they have so far is nothing but snow. Arthur Kennedy, nursing a terrible toothache, has to work under sedation. Paul Newman is trying to get all his big scenes shot first, so he can come back here next week to Joanne Woodward and their new baby. Dick Beymer and Diane Baker are the only players who have ventured out into the bitter cold, and they have been mobbed by the townspeople.

Director Marty Ritt and the whole troupe will be glad when they return to our hot smog - and will Jerry Wald be glad to see them.

That veteran of the boxing ring, Mushy Callahan, who was formerly under contract to Warners, has been engaged by the Mirisch Bros. to get Elvis Presley in top condition for his prize fight role in "Kid Gallahad."

After sizing up Elvis before the singer left for a vacation in Memphis, Mushy said, "actually, the kid's been fairly well toughened up by all that exercise with the guitar, but wait until I finish with him at the training camp we're setting up for him at Idlewild" - where much of the movie will be filmed.

When I used to go to prize fights and wrestling matches years ago, I always enjoyed watching Mushy, a referee.

The little Italian village of Castelaneta where Rudolph Valentino, the first of the great movie lovers, was born, is going all out to become a tourists mecca. They've had a $2500 statue of Rudy as "The Sheik" erected in the town square. They've taken over the house, where he was born and turned it into a shrine.

If Rudy were still alive, I know he'd be amused. Just once, after he became famous, he returned to Castelaneta - and not a soul recognized him. I always had the idea, however, that eventually Rudy would have retired there, and only his untimely death at the age of thirty-one prevented this.

Ridgeley Poster Winners Announced

Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company last night announced the winners of its annual poster contest which is held in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

Theresa Bradley, a sixth grade student at Ridgeley Elementary School, won first prize for her poster titled, "Help Us, We Can't Prevent Forest Fires." Her poster depicted a tree with wildlife around it.

The other contest winner was Sue Andrews, a fourth grade pupil. Her poster showed an overloaded electric socket and was titled "Fire Hazard."

The winning students each received a season ticket to all of Ridgeley High School's basketball games.

The contest was judged by three members of the fire company. Some 40 students entered the poster contest.

Seven Divorces Granted In Court

Seven divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Ruth Elda Footen was granted a divorce from Thomas Allen Footen. William A. Kienhofer was awarded a divorce from Mary Elizabeth Kienhofer. Martha Ann Hubbard won a divorce from Dorman Lee Hubbard and custody of their minor child.

Rosemary Elaine Martin was granted a divorce from Blake C. Martin and custody of their three minor children. James Nelson Willison obtained a divorce from Ruth Frances Willison. Margaret A. Laber Helmick was given a divorce from Robert A. Helmick and the right to resume use of her former name of Margaret A. Laber. Esther A. Mason was granted a divorce from James J. Mason Sr. and custody of their four minor children.

793 Arrests Made During September

The Cumberland Police Department made 793 arrests during September, according to a report by Commissioner Philmore Fleming. Collections from fines totaled $2,186.70.

The Fire Department answered 32 calls during the month. Damage was reported minor.

but they've had lots of help from people in all walks of life.

Pharmacists of the Allegany-Garrett County Pharmaceutical Society, headed by Joseph Eshelman, president, and F. L. (Gene) Judy, polio vaccine chairman, will set up the stations, dilute the vaccine, and generally keep things running.

They're devoting much of their own time and a lot of effort to the project.

So are the nurses of the area, headed by Miss Jeanne Dauphin. They'll be spending their off-duty hours at the centers, handing each person a small cup of distilled water containing two drops of vaccine.

Dr. W. Ross Cameron, deputy state health officer for the county, has volunteered his services and those of the county health nurses.

Donating Services

Memorial Hospital is donating the services of its student nurses to keep important records at the centers.

The drug stores will help out by distributing forms this week to people who need them.

PTA presidents, led by Mrs. Benjamin R. Lewis Jr., president of the Allegany County Council of PTAs, are busy lining up volunteer lay workers to handle the clerical duties at the schools and dispensing centers. So are the presidents and special chairmen of a number of other organizations.

Queen City Brewery is donating a couple of hundred gallons of distilled water for diluting the vaccine. The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce is arranging free transportation for anyone who needs a ride to dispensing centers. A committee of bakery and dairy operators headed by Lewis J. Ort will provide refreshments for workers at the centers.

With all this help, the workers are expecting to have even more success than they had with the first-dose program in June, when more than 38,000 persons took the vaccine here.

"We asked for help and we're certainly getting it," they said.

Card Party Set

The Ladies of St. Ambrose Catholic Church, Cresaptown, will conduct a card party at 8 p. m. today at the parish house. There will be prizes and refreshments.

The lac, a tiny, parasitic insect found on certain types of plum trees in India, Burma and Thailand, is the source of all shellac. It secretes lac resin, which is scraped off limbs and twigs and made into shellac.

Cass Railroad Set-Up To Cost Half Million

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—It may be two years or more before the old Cass railroad in Pocahontas County is converted into a new West Virginia tourist attraction.

Natural Resources Director Warden M. Lane said Monday that negotiations for land and equipment purchases in connection with the former logging operation probably will be completed within 10 days.

However, Lane said approximately $150,000 allocated by the Legislature for the purchase has nearly been used up. About $142,000 has been spent for land purchases.

Lane estimated that nearly $400,000 would be needed to put the operation in first-class condition as a tourist lure. This includes construction of eating facilities and restrooms, as well as repairs to the railroad itself.

The director indicated efforts would be made to get private enterprise to aid in the promotion in order that the state would not be burdened with the entire operation.

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will enter an industrial display at the Home Show planned here Thursday through Saturday by the Cumberland Jaycees.

Population shifts pose many problems for U.S. educational systems.

Utility Worker Turns In Alarm

South Cumberland Fire Company extinguished a grass fire at the intersection of Fourth Street and Wempe Drive yesterday afternoon.

The alarm was called in to Central Fire Company by the local gas company after one of its service men discovered the blaze and radioed to the utility's headquarters.

Water Use Drops

Water consumption here last week averaged 11,914,000 gallons daily, a heavy drop from last year's 14,805,000. Lake Gordon was down five feet Sunday and Lake Koon had dropped 10 feet below its spillway.

Two 'Chinas' Note An Anniversary

Many overseas Chinese from the United States, Hong Kong, and Southeast Asia are expected today on Taiwan for celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic by Dr. Sun Yat-sen. The holiday — often called "Double Ten" because it is celebrated on the tenth day of the tenth month —is Free China's Fourth of July.

Communist China, on the other hand, customarily observes as its national day October 1, supposedly marking the establishment of Red rule throughout the mainland in 1949. The Reds' celebration was held this year, with Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos, King Mahendra of Nepal, and Dowager Queen Elizabeth of Belgium the luminaries in a strangely motley crew of state guests.

Usually the Communists on their national day pledge themselves to "liberate" Taiwan and the Nationalists nine days later promise to "rid the mainland of the Communists." In the past the two holidays have been the occasion for competitive demonstrations by overseas Chinese, notably in Hong Kong, the free world's last toehold on the China mainland.

This year, however, the Communists are celebrating the Double Ten as well as their own national day, with observances scheduled throughout the mainland. The reason given is their profound respect for Dr. Sun, who inspired the anti-monarchic uprisings in South China that led to the outbreak of the 1911 revolution in Wuchang. What most observers, certainly those on Taiwan, believe is the real reason is that the Reds want to take their subjects' minds off the failures of Communist bureaucracy and the hunger pains created by admitted widespread crop failures.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Build A Shelter!

To build or not to build is the great question of the day. Up to a few months ago, the compulsion was to build a swimming pool. Who could possibly have any status at all unless a tub of green water lay on his lawn for all to see? Sometimes, they even put on bathing suits and lay in the sun or if the weather was warm enough, they hopped in and swam about for a few minutes. It was a beautiful sight to behold—but most of the time the pool just lay there serving neither man nor fish, but giving evidence of status.

But now it is a bomb shelter and they dig it deep and provide 30 days of food and water and the fancier ones have a battery room from which can come light and heat with an oil supply to last exactly 30 days. This business has not yet reached boom proportions. Anyone who will not own a private bomb shelter will have no status at all—just a bum who will be killed by an A or H bomb or a fallout.

Of course, as time and hysteria move their merry way, the bomb shelters will be dug deeper and deeper and perhaps they will be connected by underground sidewalks and later by an underground road system so that automobiles will be able to move hither and thither. It will truly be wonderful to live in underground caves. Only the poor will live above ground. They will see grass and trees and roads and the sky but they will have no status. And when the bomb falls, they will be killed first and there will be no one to bury them.

But what happens if no bomb falls? We shall, of course, have another boom. This time, it will be to convert shelters into playrooms. And there will be clever manufacturers who will make special kinds of barbecues for a party down underneath and it will be fun to dress like the Devil and to roast a pig or a goat on a spit, the Devil acting as chef. Special music will be written for such an occasion and the recording business will boom selling Hell music and there will be special costumes for all sorts of occasions and jokers will desire ideas like exchanging wives and having orgies about which books will be written and sold by the million.

There will be a boom converting shelters into evidences of leisure and luxury. And whoever will not own an underground play-room will be a poor simp who did not make the grade. It is like not having money enough to join a country club or to change the porch furniture every summer.

Television will thrive on these booms. Beautiful girls with well modulated voices and long fingernails will be used as models for all sorts of devices of luxury and idleness. And the poor dears will eat no food that adds to one's figure an ounce of flesh. In fact, already food substitutes are being advertised, so that a girl drinks her breakfast to keep her hips flat.

And so there will be another boom because the doctors will discover that thinness is bad for the lungs and awful for the feet and that everyone should eat real food, such as meat and butter and bread. Then the researchers will rediscover how grandmother made popovers and how good fried mush was if true maple syrup was used with it.

And so the cycle of life turns even as the Earth and all the stars turn in their rhythmic way and we shall be back where we started, eating an ice cream sundae covered up with marshmallows and chopped walnuts and adding 500 calories with each dish, as boy looks into the lovely green eyes of girl and thinks of the babies to come who will live in an uncontaminated world.

I have been in a shelter deep in a mountain and down very far, but then that was built so that if war ever came, we could go on fighting no matter what the Russians blew up. It looked like a comfortable place and must have cost lots of millions to build and furnish. But there was no live cow and no steaks hanging in the icebox and nothing on hand but synthetic rations that taste like chocolate bars. Somebody said that war is hell and we sure are preparing for a life in hell.

Sen. Goldwater Lines Up Four AF Planes For Congressional Junkets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential aspirant from Arizona, is a vehement defender of the dollar and a tireless crusader for economy when it comes to making political speeches. But when he sees an Air Force plane warmed up on the runways and ready to go, his concern for the taxpayer vanishes like the morning dew under the Arizona sun.

To illustrate, Sen. Goldwater is spearheading a Congressional "reserve officers" series of junkts this fall which will use no fewer than four special Air Force planes. They are taking off for various delightful and interesting parts of the world.

The Senator from Arizona gets away with this on the ground that he is an Air Force reservist. While Congress is in session this is a wonderful asset. For, when Goldwater has a speaking engagement, he can usually get a plane for a "training flight" to the town or general area where he is speaking.

Goldwater, a reserve Brigadier General, is commander of the 9,999th Reserve Squadron which operates an Air Force cell on Capitol Hill. Its roster includes Senators, Congressmen, and assistants — everyone of political influence who possesses an Air Force commission and many of them in position to vote more money for the Air Force.

When Congress is in session, they meet once a week to learn why it is important to vote for higher Air Force appropriations.

It might be added that the Army and Navy have organized their reservists on Capitol Hill into similar political cells. They are also rewarded by the Army and Navy with junkets to vacation spots at the taxpayers' expense.

Paid For Touring

Originally, Goldwater asked the Air Force for only one plane to fly his reservists abroad this year. But he has been so swamped with applications and didn't want to offend anyone, that this year he has now lined up four planes.
anyone, that this year he has now lined up four planes.

Junket No. 1 has already taken off for the Far East with a load of Congressional aides led by Sen. Hiram Fong, Republican of Hawaii, a reserve colonel. This Congressional junket will visit such delightful "military outposts" as Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Manila and Bangkok.

Junket No. 2 is scheduled to depart October 20 for Paris, Wiesbaden, Berlin, Munich, Naples and Madrid. Aboard will be congressmen James Wright of Texas, Fernand St. Germain of Rhode Island, Democrats; with Alphonzo Bell of California, Republican, plus a host of Congressional assistants.

Congressman St. Germain doesn't even have an Air Force commission, but that doesn't make a bit of difference. The Air Force is rushing the paper work to make him a reserve officer in time for the junket.

Junket No. 3 is supposed to leave November 27 for Greece, Turkey, Libya and Spain. Northern Europe will be too cold for so these reservists will fly South. The Congressmen have signed up to take the trip are Perkins Bass of New Hampshire, James Battin of Montana, William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Republicans; with Neal Smtih of Iowa, Frank Clark of Pennsylvania, and Basil Whitener of North Carolina, Democrats.

Junket No. 4 departs two days later for the sunny Mediterranean with Goldwater at the helm. With him will be Senators Howard Cannon of Nevada, Steve Young of Ohio, Democrats; and Jack Miller of Iowa, Republican.

Both the Mediterranean trips, of course, are loaded down with Congressional aides. All are reserve officers except one lone enlisted reservist, Raymond J. Morissette, who works for Sen. Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island.

The happy junketeers not only will get their transportation and expenses paid by the taxpayers, but will also draw active-duty pay during the trip.

Then they will fly back to vote bigger and better appropriations for the Air Force. It's one of the most efficient and delightful lobbying rackets on Capitol Hill.

Heroes Without Headlines

Alabama Hero — Sometimes this column is so busy digging up skulduggery that it neglects merit. In that spirit, here is a "hero without headlines" — H. Tom Cochran, President of the board of trustees of the 6th District TB Hospital in Mobile, Ala.

After this column called attention to well-qualified Cuban physicians working as bellhops and waiters in the Miami area, Mr. Cochran got busy with medical associations and placed Dr. F. J. Menendez and Dr. Marao Machavo with local mobile hospitals.

Mr. Cochran is one of the land appraisers who checked on the value of the controversial piece of property owned by Governor Patterson's political henchman Bill Delaney in Mobile which Charlie Meriwether wanted to have appraised at around $180,000 when a federal highway dumped soil on his property. Cochran recommended that $1 was enough.

Latin American Hero — Also congratulations to the North American Committee for Peru on its fine work in bettering U.S.-Peruvian relations. Unlike some American businessmen in South Ameirca, these businessmen are mixing in the community and promoting better understanding with Peruvians. The committee has equipped Boy Scout Troops for underprivileged children in the Sierras, conducted education by short-wave radio in isolated mountain areas, promoted tourism to Peru, inaugurated a student cooperative residence at the University of San Marcos, furnished tools to a technical school, and held discussion groups for Peruvians and Americans.

This is the kind of North American business cooperation which rebuilds the Good Neighbor Policy.

'Quiet Diplomacy' May Make Very Slow Progress

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — "Quiet Diplomacy" — now going on between Russia and the United States — means patient diplomacy. It covers months — not just days. Progree isn't measurable by public statements, nor is there always a concrete accomplishment to be noted in time for the next edition of the newspapers.

As for the world in general, it wants to know in advance whether there's going to be a war. On the basis of all the moves made to date, neither side has a logical reason for beginning a war. So it's the talk of "accidents" and of some arbitrary action by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, together with the long series of nuclear tests by Russia, which tends to make people nervous.

It is unfortunate that the techniques of negotiation are so unfamiliar to the public that such an exaggerated importance should be given to the conference, for instance, that President Kennedy had with Foreign Minister Gromyko here or to Secretary of State Rusk's long sessions with the Communist envoy.

Naturally, when the foreign minister of a potential adversary's government comes to this country, there is an opportunity for significant conversations. But anyone familiar with past practices doesn't really think for a minute that a tangible agreement can be reached in such parleys. A dictator limits the scope of an ambassador's instructions. The word, therefore, that is used is "exploration." This leads in turn to comments by Mr. Rusk that the talks were "interesting" and by Mr. Gromyko that they were "useful."

But the truth is the quiet repetition of views doesn't mean too much. Acts mean more. The Soviets did cut off East Berlin and seal it with "the wall." The West didn't resist. This was doubtless regarded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a sign that he could go further and not meet resistance. But promptly the military build-up by the West around Berlin served notice, in effect, that the limit had been reached.

The over-all situation can be described simply. If Russia begins a fight, the West will resist. This word has been passed along to Moscow again and again. How did the whole crisis start? Moscow announced that a "separate peace treaty" with East Germany would be signed "before the end of the year." Since then the West has shown it isn't too much concerned about the mere signing of a piece of paper between Moscow and its puppet in East Germany, either this year or next. What's important is whether there is any aggression — whether the West Germans or their allies are to be denied access to West Berlin.

The Soviets can, if they like, repress their militancy and confine their interferences with access to Berlin to small incidents. That's why London and Washington are already urging the Bonn government to make up its mind how it wants to handle what may develop significantly as routine contacts with East Germany. To arrange for the passage of persons and the transport of goods across the boundary isn't a difficult matter if each side understands that the word "access" really means access. The Soviet government has pledged that it will guarantee access rights.

So, seeming details are likely to be haggled about for several months. Meanwhile, big talk will come from Nikita Khrushchev when the Communist Party and the Communist-bloc states hold important meetings soon. The world will be kept in a state of apprehension. This is a deliberate tactic by the Soviet premier, who thinks that the more he bluffs and threatens, the more likely the West will be inclined to grant concessions in the "negotiations."

Under these trying circumstances, it is regrettable that President Kennedy isn't getting more help from the members of his own party as well as from some of the newspapers in western Europe. The impression is being conveyed that the President's own strong words will be followed by a surrender in the end on essential points and that he will not stand up in the final analysis in support of the government of West Germany.

One thing ought to be made clear to domestic as well as foreign critics. President Kennedy can't surrender or back down on any vital point. If he does and a real defeat is registered in the "cold war" on matters of substance, he might as well say farewell to the presidency in the next election. For if the public is convinced that John F. Kennedy did not stand up in an international crisis, he will be defeated at the polls.

The President, however, is an experienced political analyst. He knows the consequences of surrender better than do his critics. He also knows that to save his country from war by an honorable settlement means certain reelection.

The big question is how Nikita Khrushchev sizes up the carping criticism of the President in the foreign press. He must know that the United States cannot back down on established rights in Berlin. He will try, therefore, to prolong the present crisis while he attempts to harass the West in other parts of the world in the hope of breaking up the western alliance.

This will be a long, long controversy. It may take years to resolve. For, as the prospect of a hot war recedes, the "cold war" intensifies more and more as an instrument of Communist imperialism. It will require alertness and patience on the western side —solidarity of spirit as well as financial sacrifice — to carry on intelligently a countermovement.

'GRAVE' FEUD — Despite the critical world situation, the greatest concern of two Congressmen these days is their feud over the proper burial place of a woman who was kidnaped by Indians and who died in 1847.

The kidnaping occurred in 1778 and Reps. Daniel J. Flood of Pennsylvania and J. Edward Roush of Indiana each want the lady interred in their own district. Her present grave, in Wabash County, Indiana, will be flooded by an Army Engineers reservoir project.

Flood contends that the lady, who was kidnaped at the age of five from a log cabin, now in his district, "should be returned to the area from which she was kidnaped by a then enemy nation. This is common legal practice." Besides, the local historical society wants to erect a monument on the site.

However, Roush points out that the lady, who in the intervening years had been assimilated by the Indians and had married one of them, declined to return to her home when her relatives finally located her 52 years after the kidnaping. "We're just trying to honor her wishes today," says Roush.

Both Congressmen have presented their cases to the Interior Department and the Army Engineers. And both are determined to fight the issue out on the House floor one of these days.

The ultimate decision probably will depend on the wishes of three of the lady's surviving descendants who seem inclined to have their colorful antecedent buried in the Frances Slocum State Forest, Indiana, named after the lady.

Some Strange Noises

By John Crosby

I can remember—it seems like yesterday—when the record business was finished. Dead. Done in by radio. But that was years ago. It cameb ack all right, all rgiht. The back page of "Variety" is filled this week by a triumphant ad proclaiming that Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Sound of Music" album has now sold 1,000,000 copies at $5.98 a throw.

I can understand the people wanting to listen to Rodgers and Hammerstein's music but I can't quite dig the enthusiasm for recording everything else — comedians, statesmen, sports car noises. Everything gets on records these days and they all seem to sell.

The other day I had a talk with Bud Greenspan, an amazing fellow, who records some very strange noises. Some of his records: "Great Moments In Sports," "The Voices of the Twentieth Century," "Great Moments From the United Nations," "Nuremburg War Trials," "Witness"—a record of the Army-McCarthy hearings; and "World War II." Most of these records sell from $5.95 to $7.95 and have sold 20,000 a piece. Why, for heaven's sake?

"I think the reason people buy these records has a lot to do with interest in history and alos with nostalgia. They want to know what Hitler, Hess and Goering sounded like. A kid in my office the other day said: 'Hey, you got Roosevelt on that record'. I'd never realized Roosevelt died sixteen years ago and this kid must have been about two years old," began Mr. Greenspan.

Greenspan gets these old voices and nosises from the Library of Congress, NBC, CBS, WNYC, collectors. "I did something called 'The Great Voices of the Twentieth Century', starting in 1900 when Edison ran around and recorded people with his little machine. People like Florence Nightengale, the actual bugler at the charge of the Light Brigade, Billy Sunday.

"We're living with a generation of people who believe that Abraham Lincoln is Raymond Massey. I always believed Lincoln was deep-voiced, a deep baritone, but after research I found he was high voiced and very hard to listen to. People walked out on the Gettysburg address and it only became famous weeks afterwards."

Music you can hear again but personally, none of these novelty voice records, including the comedians who sell so well attract me more than the first time. "I thought the people would listen only once too," said Greenspan. "But they don't. People listen the first time; then their friends come in and they play the records for the friends and the friends go buy the records and play them for their friends.

"I the 'Witness' album I have 40 minutes between Welch and McCarthy, I've also got Symington and McCarthy, Cohn and Schine. It's amazing how much I've forgotten about that trial. Many people have forgotten even what the issues were. In the World War II albums there are sounds of warfare that are the last we'll ever heard of this kind of warfare."

Sounds, Greenspan thinks, have their own deep emotional power. "Why do the majority of people remember so clearly the mystery dramas on radio and not on television? Because we each interpret what we hear. In television it's all there, the guy being gunned down or chased through the streets. But when we heard the Shadow, we could all imagine Lamont Cranston. We saw the hero as we wanted him to be. This business about one picture being worth a thousand words is the bunk. I think one word is worth a thousan pictures. And I think here is beauty in the actual word that has an imperfection in it; too."

"How can you equate the drama of Churchill's voice with the most dramatic of Churchill's pictures, the two fingers up in the V for victory. It was inspiring but not nearly so inspiring or so thrilling as his voice in the 'blood, tears and sweat' speech. Or when he says to those people whom Hitler had overrun: 'Lift up your hearts'—I tell you it sends chills down my spine."

I asked him if he thought the new voices equalled the old ones. How about President Kennedy? Would he some day make a great album.

"Oh, absolutely! He might not be a great speaker from the point of view of diction, but he is a strong speaker — much stronger than Eisenhower or Truman. And there are other great voices—Stevenson, not in the UN but outside the UN. Hammarskjold's rebuttal of Khrushchev, Macmillan rebutting Khrushchev. But there are no great voices in broadcasting any more. The voices of 15 years ago were magnificent — Gabriel Heatter, Murrow, Kaltenborn, Elmer Davis—Magnificent."

Surgery Is Safer For Older Persons Today

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Several weeks ago a surgeon scheduled two identical operations for the same morning. At 8, he removed the gall bladder and appendix from a woman of 84, and performed the same procedure on a 46 year old housewife an hour or so later. Both recovered rapidly; they were out of bed on the following day and went home 10 days later.

Chronological age no longer is a barrier to surgery. In the last five years, 207 patients over 80 had operations in Baltimore hospitals. The same can be said of other hospitals.

A man of 104 had an emergency operation for strangulated hernia four years ago at the University of Michigan. He made a rapid convalescence and, according to Dr. C. E. Crook, is still active.

The need for surgery is balanced against the risk of life or invalidism. The chances that an older person will survive surgery today are so good, "I'm too old to have an operation" no longer is a valid excuse.

The safety of geriatric surgery is the outgrowth of considerable research on the special needs of oldsters before, during and after a major operation. It revolves about intravenous fluids, blood, and drugs that improve the circulation. In addition, the type of anesthetic is individualized to fit the special requirements of the patients. Above all, the elderly person is not allowed to remain in bed longer than necessary, to discourage pneumonia and blood clots.

Most operations performed on oldsters are for the removal of the prostate gland, bladder tumor, fractured hip, gall bladder disorders, cataract, hernia, peptic ulcer, cancer of the bowel or stomach, or amputation of a limb because of gangrene.

REPLY

Yes, provided the right antibiotic is pitted against the right germ. Acute attacks of tonsilitis respond better than chronic infections.

BLOOD VESSEL DILATOR

F. J. writes: Will it weaken the heart to continue taking nitroglycerine for chest pain?

REPLY

No. The effect of this drug is to dilate the coronary arteries so more blood is brought to the heart muscle.

NOTHING WRONG

C. B. writes: What does a doctor mean when he says a heart is "not remarkable?"

REPLY

He means it is normal. The statement is a cliche among many physicians. Your heart may not sound any different from any other normal heart. But instead of saying, "You have the best sounding heart of all my patients," he deflates you by saying it is "not remarkable."

NERVE DEAFNESS

A. D. writes: What causes nerve hearing loss?

REPLY

In this condition, the individual is hard of hearing because the nerve does not convey the sound impulses to the brain. In many instances, the victim is old and the loss stems from degeneration along the nerve pathways. In others, the nerve is injured or damaged by toxins, drugs, or infections.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Are you stuck with a husband who ignores you habitually at the breakfast table and buries his nose in the sporting pages or financial tables in his morning paper? If so, take a tip from lovely Mary Healy, who soon cured her husband Peter of such cavalier behaviour. One morning, she just yanked the paper away from him and caroled, "The doctor dropped in to see me just before you awakened, and boy, do I have news for you!" That ended Peter's reading for one morning anyhow.

The big attraction at a south Jersey carnival was a grizzly bear who played "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the piano.

"Goodness," marveled a lady spectator to the bear's trainer, "how did that ungainly animal ever learn to play the piano?"

"How does anybody learn?" snapped the trainer. "He took lessons."

Two 'Chinas' Note An Anniversary

Many overseas Chinese from the United States, Hong Kong, and Southeast Asia are expected today on Taiwan for celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic by Dr. Sun Yat-sen. The holiday — often called "Double Ten" because it is celebrated on the tenth day of the tenth month —is Free China's Fourth of July.

Communist China, on the other hand, customarily observes as its national day October 1, supposedly marking the establishment of Red rule throughout the mainland in 1949. The Reds' celebration was held this year, with Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos, King Mahendra of Nepal, and Dowager Queen Elizabeth of Belgium the luminaries in a strangely motley crew of state guests.

Usually the Communists on their national day pledge themselves to "liberate" Taiwan and the Nationalists nine days later promise to "rid the mainland of the Communists." In the past the two holidays have been the occasion for competitive demonstrations by overseas Chinese, notably in Hong Kong, the free world's last toehold on the China mainland.

This year, however, the Communists are celebrating the Double Ten as well as their own national day, with observances scheduled throughout the mainland. The reason given is their profound respect for Dr. Sun, who inspired the anti-monarchic uprisings in South China that led to the outbreak of the 1911 revolution in Wuchang. What most observers, certainly those on Taiwan, believe is the real reason is that the Reds want to take their subjects' minds off the failures of Communist bureaucracy and the hunger pains created by admitted widespread crop failures.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Build A Shelter!

To build or not to build is the great question of the day. Up to a few months ago, the compulsion was to build a swimming pool. Who could possibly have any status at all unless a tub of green water lay on his lawn for all to see? Sometimes, they even put on bathing suits and lay in the sun or if the weather was warm enough, they hopped in and swam about for a few minutes. It was a beautiful sight to behold—but most of the time the pool just lay there serving neither man nor fish, but giving evidence of status.

But now it is a bomb shelter and they dig it deep and provide 30 days of food and water and the fancier ones have a battery room from which can come light and heat with an oil supply to last exactly 30 days. This business has not yet reached boom proportions. Anyone who will not own a private bomb shelter will have no status at all—just a bum who will be killed by an A or H bomb or a fallout.

Of course, as time and hysteria move their merry way, the bomb shelters will be dug deeper and deeper and perhaps they will be connected by underground sidewalks and later by an underground road system so that automobiles will be able to move hither and thither. It will truly be wonderful to live in underground caves. Only the poor will live above ground. They will see grass and trees and roads and the sky but they will have no status. And when the bomb falls, they will be killed first and there will be no one to bury them.

But what happens if no bomb falls? We shall, of course, have another boom. This time, it will be to convert shelters into playrooms. And there will be clever manufacturers who will make special kinds of barbecues for a party down underneath and it will be fun to dress like the Devil and to roast a pig or a goat on a spit, the Devil acting as chef. Special music will be written for such an occasion and the recording business will boom selling Hell music and there will be special costumes for all sorts of occasions and jokers will desire ideas like exchanging wives and having orgies about which books will be written and sold by the million.

There will be a boom converting shelters into evidences of leisure and luxury. And whoever will not own an underground play-room will be a poor simp who did not make the grade. It is like not having money enough to join a country club or to change the porch furniture every summer.

Television will thrive on these booms. Beautiful girls with well modulated voices and long fingernails will be used as models for all sorts of devices of luxury and idleness. And the poor dears will eat no food that adds to one's figure an ounce of flesh. In fact, already food substitutes are being advertised, so that a girl drinks her breakfast to keep her hips flat.

And so there will be another boom because the doctors will discover that thinness is bad for the lungs and awful for the feet and that everyone should eat real food, such as meat and butter and bread. Then the researchers will rediscover how grandmother made popovers and how good fried mush was if true maple syrup was used with it.

And so the cycle of life turns even as the Earth and all the stars turn in their rhythmic way and we shall be back where we started, eating an ice cream sundae covered up with marshmallows and chopped walnuts and adding 500 calories with each dish, as boy looks into the lovely green eyes of girl and thinks of the babies to come who will live in an uncontaminated world.

I have been in a shelter deep in a mountain and down very far, but then that was built so that if war ever came, we could go on fighting no matter what the Russians blew up. It looked like a comfortable place and must have cost lots of millions to build and furnish. But there was no live cow and no steaks hanging in the icebox and nothing on hand but synthetic rations that taste like chocolate bars. Somebody said that war is hell and we sure are preparing for a life in hell.

A. D. writes: What causes nerve hearing loss?

REPLY

In this condition, the individual is hard of hearing because the nerve does not convey the sound impulses to the brain. In many instances, the victim is old and the loss stems from degeneration along the nerve pathways. In others, the nerve is injured or damaged by toxins, drugs, or infections.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Are you stuck with a husband who ignores you habitually at the breakfast table and buries his nose in the sporting pages or financial tables in his morning paper? If so, take a tip from lovely Mary Healy, who soon cured her husband Peter of such cavalier behaviour. One morning, she just yanked the paper away from him and caroled, "The doctor dropped in to see me just before you awakened, and boy, do I have news for you!" That ended Peter's reading for one morning anyhow.

The big attraction at a south Jersey carnival was a grizzly bear who played "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the piano. "Goodness," marveled a lady spectator to the bear's trainer, "how did that ungainly animal ever learn to play the piano?"

"How does anybody learn?" snapped the trainer. "He took lessons."

Sen. Goldwater Lines Up Four AF Planes For Congressional Junkets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential aspirant from Arizona, is a vehement defender of the dollar and a tireless crusader for economy when it comes to making political speeches. But when he sees an Air Force plane warmed up on the runways and ready to go, his concern for the taxpayer vanishes like the morning dew under the Arizona sun.

To illustrate, Sen. Goldwater is spearheading a Congressional "reserve officers" series of junkts this fall which will use no fewer than four special Air Force planes. They are taking off for various delightful and interesting parts of the world.

The Senator from Arizona gets away with this on the ground that he is an Air Force reservist. While Congress is in session this is a wonderful asset. For, when Goldwater has a speaking engagement, he can usually get a plane for a "training flight" to the town or general area where he is speaking.

Goldwater, a reserve Brigadier General, is commander of the 9,999th Reserve Squadron which operates an Air Force cell on Capitol Hill. Its roster includes Senators, Congressmen, and assistants — everyone of political influence who possesses an Air Force commission and many of them in position to vote more money for the Air Force.

When Congress is in session, they meet once a week to learn why it is important to vote for higher Air Force appropriations.

It might be added that the Army and Navy have organized their reservists on Capitol Hill into similar political cells. They are also rewarded by the Army and Navy with junkets to vacation spots at the taxpayers' expense.

Paid For Touring

Originally, Goldwater asked the Air Force for only one plane to fly his reservists abroad this year. But he has been so swamped with applications and didn't want to offend anyone, that this year he has now lined up four planes.

anyone, that this year he has now lined up four planes.

Junket No. 1 has already taken off for the Far East with a load of Congressional aides led by Sen. Hiram Fong, Republican of Hawaii, a reserve colonel. This Congressional junket will visit such delightful "military outposts" as Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Manila and Bangkok.

Junket No. 2 is scheduled to depart October 20 for Paris, Wiesbaden, Berlin, Munich, Naples and Madrid. Aboard will be congressmen James Wright of Texas, Fernand St. Germain of Rhode Island, Democrats; with Alphonzo Bell of California, Republican, plus a host of Congressional assistants.

Congressman St. Germain doesn't even have an Air Force commission, but that doesn't make a bit of difference. The Air Force is rushing the paper work to make him a reserve officer in time for the junket.

Junket No. 3 is supposed to leave November 27 for Greece, Turkey, Libya and Spain. Northern Europe will be too cold for so these reservists will fly South. The Congressmen have signed up to take the trip are Perkins Bass of New Hampshire, James Battin of Montana, William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Republicans; with Neal Smtih of Iowa, Frank Clark of Pennsylvania, and Basil Whitener of North Carolina, Democrats.

Junket No. 4 departs two days later for the sunny Mediterranean with Goldwater at the helm. With him will be Senators Howard Cannon of Nevada, Steve Young of Ohio, Democrats; and Jack Miller of Iowa, Republican.

Both the Mediterranean trips, of course, are loaded down with Congressional aides. All are reserve officers except one lone enlisted reservist, Raymond J. Morissette, who works for Sen. Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island.

The happy junketeers not only will get their transportation and expenses paid by the taxpayers, but will also draw active-duty pay during the trip.

Then they will fly back to vote bigger and better appropriations for the Air Force. It's one of the most efficient and delightful lobbying rackets on Capitol Hill.

Heroes Without Headlines

Alabama Hero — Sometimes this column is so busy digging up skulduggery that it neglects merit. In that spirit, here is a "hero without headlines" — H. Tom Cochran, President of the board of trustees of the 6th District TB Hospital in Mobile, Ala.

After this column called attention to well-qualified Cuban physicians working as bellhops and waiters in the Miami area, Mr. Cochran got busy with medical associations and placed Dr. F. J. Menendez and Dr. Marao Machavo with local mobile hospitals.

Mr. Cochran is one of the land appraisers who checked on the value of the controversial piece of property owned by Governor Patterson's political henchman Bill Delaney in Mobile which Charlie Meriwether wanted to have appraised at around $180,000 when a federal highway dumped soil on his property. Cochran recommended that $1 was enough.

Latin American Hero — Also congratulations to the North American Committee for Peru on its fine work in bettering U.S.-Peruvian relations. Unlike some American businessmen in South Ameirca, these businessmen are mixing in the community and promoting better understanding with Peruvians. The committee has equipped Boy Scout Troops for underprivileged children in the Sierras, conducted education by short-wave radio in isolated mountain areas, promoted tourism to Peru, inaugurated a student cooperative residence at the University of San Marcos, furnished tools to a technical school, and held discussion groups for Peruvians and Americans.

This is the kind of North American business cooperation which rebuilds the Good Neighbor Policy.

Some Strange Noises

By John Crosby

I can remember—it seems like yesterday—when the record business was finished. Dead. Done in by radio. But that was years ago. It cameb ack all right, all rgiht. The back page of "Variety" is filled this week by a triumphant ad proclaiming that Rodgers and Hammersteirn's "Sound of Music" album has now sold 1,000,000 copies at $5.98 a throw.

I can understand the people wanting to listen to Rodgers and Hammerstein's music but I can't quite dig the enthusiasm for recording everything else — comedians, statesmen, sports car noises. Everything gets on records these days and they all seem to sell.

The other day I had a talk with Bud Greenspan, an amazing fellow, who records some very strange noises. Some of his records: "Great Moments In Sports," "The Voices of the Twentieth Century," "Great Moments From the United Nations," "Nuremburg War Trials," "Witness"—a record of the Army-McCarthy hearings; and "World War II." Most of these records sell from $5.95 to $7.95 and have sold 20,000 a piece. Why, for heaven's sake?

"I think the reason people buy these records has a lot to do with interest in history and alos with nostalgia. They want to know what Hitler, Hess and Goering sounded like. A kid in my office the other day said: 'Hey, you got Roosevelt on that record'. I'd never realized Roosevelt died sixteen years ago and this kid must have been about two years old," began Mr. Greenspan.

Greenspan gets these old voices and nosises from the Library of Congress, NBC, CBS, WNYC, collectors. "I did something called 'The Great Voices of the Twentieth Century', starting in 1900 when Edison ran around and recorded people with his little machine. People like Florence Nightengale, the actual bugler at the charge of the Light Brigade, Billy Sunday.

"We're living with a generation of people who believe that Abraham Lincoln is Raymond Massey. I always believed Lincoln was deep-voiced, a deep baritone, but after research I found he was high voiced and very hard to listen to. People walked out on the Gettysburg address and it only became famous weeks afterwards."

Music you can hear again but personally, none of these novelty voice records, including the comedians who sell so well attract me more than the first time. "I thought the people would listen only once too," said Greenspan. "But they don't. People listen the first time; then their friends come in and they play the records for the friends and the friends go buy the records and play them for their friends.

"I the 'Witness' album I have 40 minutes between Welch and McCarthy, I've also got Symington and McCarthy, Cohn and Schine. It's amazing how much I've forgotten about that trial. Many people have forgotten even what the issues were. In the World War II albums there are sounds of warfare that are the last we'll ever heard of this kind of warfare."

Sounds, Greenspan thinks, have their own deep emotional power. "Why do the majority of people remember so clearly the mystery dramas on radio and not on television? Because we each interpret what we hear. In television it's all there, the guy being gunned down or chased through the streets. But when we heard the Shadow, we could all imagine Lamont Cranston. We saw the hero as we wanted him to be. This business about one picture being worth a thousand words is the bunk. I think one word is worth a thousan pictures. And I think here is beauty in the actual word that has an imperfection in it; too."

"How can you equate the drama of Churchill's voice with the most dramatic of Churchill's pictures, the two fingers up in the V for victory. It was inspiring but not nearly so inspiring or so thrilling as his voice in the 'blood, tears and sweat' speech. Or when he says to those people whom Hitler had overrun: 'Lift up your hearts'—I tell you it sends chills down my spine."

I asked him if he thought the new voices equalled the old ones. How about President Kennedy? Would he some day make a great album.

"Oh, absolutely! He might not be a great speaker from the point of view of diction, but he is a strong speaker — much stronger than Eisenhower or Truman. And there are other great voices—Stevenson, not in the UN but outside the UN. Hammarskjold's rebuttal of Khrushchev, Macmillan rebutting Khrushchev. But there are no great voices in broadcasting any more. The voices of 15 years ago were magnificent — Gabriel Heatter, Murrow, Kaltenborn, Elmer Davis—Magnificent."

Yankees Romp To 19th Series Crown With 13-5 Win Over Reds

Record Eight Hurlers Fail To Halt N.Y.

Blanchard, Lopez Pace 15-Hit Attack In Sloppy Finale

By JACK HAND

CINCINNATI (AP) — The powerful New York Yankees won their 19th World Series in a five-game romp over outclassed Cincinnati, crushing the Reds in a humiliating 13-5 barrage Monday in the loosely played finale.

With Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra both out of action due to injuries, the American League champs still mounted a 15-hit attack against a parade of eight Cincinnati pitchers, the most ever used by one team in a series game.

Johnny Blanchard, Mantle's replacement, slammed a two-run homer as the Yankees routed loser Joey Jay in a five-run first inning. Hector Lopez, subbing for Brera, smashed a three-run homer off Bill Henry during another five-run explosion in the fourth.

All during the warm, summery afternoon the muscular Yanks battered the Reds' pitchers, and also took advantage of three errors by Cincinnati's sloppy defense in running up the score.

The crowd of 32,589 had only two chances to cut loose in full steam, but even that enthusiasm was dampened by the Yanks' first inning splurge.

Robinson Belts Homer

In the third, Frank Robinson hammered a long home run deep into the corner of the bleachers in right center, about 400 feet away, with two men on. Momentarily the Reds were back in the ball game, trailing only 6-3, but the drive fizzled when John Edwards fouled out with men on second and third and two out.

Again in the fifth there was a stirring and a stomping at Crosley Field when Wally Post slashed a two-run homer off Bud Daley. By that time the score was 11-5 and it really didn't matter.

The Yankee triumph made Ralph Houk only the third man to lead a team to both a pennant and a World Series victory in his first year as a manager. Only Bucky Harris, the "boy manager" of Washington in 1924 and Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946 had accomplished the feat.

It was a most satisfying accomplishment for the 42-year-old Houk, never better than a third-string catcher with the Yanks, who replaced Casey Stengel last fall after Stengel had won pennants in 10 of his 12 years with New York.

Breaks N. L. Streak

It was the 36th American League series success to 22 by the National and broke a two-straight streak by the National which had won five of the last seven. The Yanks now stand 19-7 in series competition.

Ralph Terry, unable to stand the prospretiy of a 6-0 early lead, was knocked out in the third inning. Left-handed Bud Daley went the rest of the way and got credit for his first series victory.

Along the way to this lopsided rout, Bobby Richardson tied a five-game series record with nine hits, although Babe Ruth once had 10 in four games.

Cincinnati's quick demise on the home turf was the first time a home club had lost three in a row since the 1949 Brooklyn Dodgers, also against the Yanks.

The Reds' collapse, largely because of the failure of their big guns to live up to their advance billing, was the worst since the Cleveland Indians folded in four straight against the New York Giants in 1954. In fact, five of the last six series had gone seven games while the other went six.

The details of this mismatch hardly bear repeating, except for a few moments in the third inning after Robinson's homer, when Gordy Coleman singled and Gene Freese doubled (his first and only hit in 16 at bats). But Edwards fouled out on a 3-1 pitch to Clete Boyer and the Reds were dead.

Victory Means $8,000,

This was not a great series for the Yanks' M and M boys. Mantle, crippled by the after-effects of an operation on an abscess on his right hip, played only one full game and part of another. Roger Maris, who hit an unprecedented 61 homers during the season, had only two hits in 19 trips. One, however, was the game-winning homer in the ninth inning of the third game.

The victory meant about $8,000 to each Yankee on the unofficial basis of 34 shares from the $271,289.88 winner's pot. Each Cincinnati Red would get about $5,200 on the same basis. Exact shares are to be announced later in the week by the office of Commissioner Ford Frick.

Manager Fred Hutchinson used 21 players, tying another record, in a desperate effort to keep alive. But his Reds who left New York all even after two games, simply could not do the job.

Play-By-Play Of World Series Finale

Yankees First

Richardson took a called strike and then singled to left center. It was his ninth hit of the series, tying the record for the most number of hits in a five game series. The record was set by Home Run Baker and Eddie Collins of the Athletics in 1910, tied by Baker in 1913, by Henie Groh of the Giants in 1922 and Joe Moore of the Giants in 1937. Kubek flied deep to Pinson, Richardson holding first. Maris flied to Robinson, Richardson staying at first. Jay threw to first trying to pick off Richardson, but the ball got by Coleman and Richardson went to second. Coleman was charged with an error. Blanchard, on a 3-1 count, hit a home run into the right field bleachers, scoring Richardson ahead of him and putting the Yankees ahead, 2-0. Howard doubled off the scoreboard in left center field. Maple Bowl Game Is Set For Saturday

Meyersdale High Plays Turkeyfoot

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — Meyersdale Red Raiders and the Turkeyfoot Valley Rams will be gridiron opponents here Saturday, Oct. 14 at 2 p.m. EST, for the playing of the first annual Maple Bowl Football game, promoted by the Somerset County Maple Festival.

The gridiron contest will be one of the highlights of the second day of the festival to be held here Oct. 13, 14 and 15. The two rival teams, the home Red Raiders of Meyersdale joint high school, and the visiting Rams of Turkeyfoot Valley Area high school, will be out to capture year-long possession of an authentic wooden maple keeler.

It is planned that the Maple Bowl will become a yearly event and this trophy will be a revolving award, each year going to the winner. Since opponents of the Meyersdale grid edition in this game will not always be the same, it may be possible that the keeler will travel to schools throughout the county.

Of course, hometown fans of the Red Raiders will be hoping the trophy can be retained by the MJHS team. This keeler, with a suitably engraved brass plaque attached, is being presented by the Maple Producer's Association.

With one of their most potent football machines in years, the Rams rolled over the Raiders 37-7 in 1959, and came back last season to trim the MJHS eleven 20-12. Prior to 1959 Meyersdale had recorded 12 victories over the school, while not tasting defeat one time. Two games, in 1955 and 1951 ended in deadlocks.

Special halftime show will include the presentation of Pennsylvania Queen Maple XIV and her court, drill and musical routines by the Meyersdale and Turkeyfoot Valley bands, and a massed band concert of Somerset County bands.

High Perch Named For Laurel Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP — High Perch, a 5-year-old owned by a New York investment banker, was named Monday as a representative of England in the 10th Washington D.C. International horse race.

Wonderboy, another 5-year-old, previously had been chosen to represent Denmark in the $100,000 race on Nov. 11. The race is run on the grass for a mile and half.

High Perch is owned by Herbert Allen. The son of Alycidon and Phaetonia was born in England and has raced there exclusively.

Last year $210,000 was turned in to the state government fund in New York on uncashed mutuel tickets at the race tracks.

A 21-year-old horse recently ran second in a race in England and that must be some sort of a record.

Yankees Romp To 19th Series Crown With 13-5 Win Over Reds

Record Eight Hurlers Fail To Halt N.Y.

Blanchard, Lopez Pace 15-Hit Attack In Sloppy Finale

By JACK HAND

CINCINNATI (AP) — The powerful New York Yankees won their 19th World Series in a five-game romp over outclassed Cincinnati, crushing the Reds in a humiliating 13-5 barrage Monday in the loosely played finale.

With Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra both out of action due to injuries, the American League champs still mounted a 15-hit attack against a parade of eight Cincinnati pitchers, the most ever used by one team in a series game.

Johnny Blanchard, Mantle's replacement, slammed a two-run homer as the Yankees routed loser Joey Jay in a five-run first inning. Hector Lopez, subbing for Brera, smashed a three-run homer off Bill Henry during another five-run explosion in the fourth.

All during the warm, summery afternoon the muscular Yanks battered the Reds' pitchers, and also took advantage of three errors by Cincinnati's sloppy defense in running up the score.

The crowd of 32,589 had only two chances to cut loose in full steam, but even that enthusiasm was dampened by the Yanks' first inning splurge.

Robinson Belts Homer

In the third, Frank Robinson hammered a long home run deep into the corner of the bleachers in right center, about 400 feet away, with two men on. Momentarily the Reds were back in the ball game, trailing only 6-3, but the drive fizzled when John Edwards fouled out with men on second and third and two out.

Again in the fifth there was a stirring and a stomping at Crosley Field when Wally Post slashed a two-run homer off Bud Daley. By that time the score was 11-5 and it really didn't matter.

The Yankee triumph made Ralph Houk only the third man to lead a team to both a pennant and a World Series victory in his first year as a manager. Only Bucky Harris, the "boy manager" of Washington in 1924 and Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946 had accomplished the feat.

It was a most satisfying accomplishment for the 42-year-old Houk, never better than a third-string catcher with the Yanks, who replaced Casey Stengel last fall after Stengel had won pennants in 10 of his 12 years with New York.

Breaks N. L. Streak

It was the 36th American League series success to 22 by the National and broke a two-straight streak by the National which had won five of the last seven. The Yanks now stand 19-7 in series competition.

Ralph Terry, unable to stand the prospretiy of a 6-0 early lead, was knocked out in the third inning. Left-handed Bud Daley went the rest of the way and got credit for his first series victory.

Along the way to this lopsided rout, Bobby Richardson tied a five-game series record with nine hits, although Babe Ruth once had 10 in four games.

Cincinnati's quick demise on the home turf was the first time a home club had lost three in a row since the 1949 Brooklyn Dodgers, also against the Yanks.

The Reds' collapse, largely because of the failure of their big guns to live up to their advance billing, was the worst since the Cleveland Indians folded in four straight against the New York Giants in 1954. In fact, five of the last six series had gone seven games while the other went six.

The details of this mismatch hardly bear repeating, except for a few moments in the third inning after Robinson's homer, when Gordy Coleman singled and Gene Freese doubled (his first and only hit in 16 at bats). But Edwards fouled out on a 3-1 pitch to Clete Boyer and the Reds were dead.

Victory Means $8,000,

This was not a great series for the Yanks' M and M boys. Mantle, crippled by the after-effects of an operation on an abscess on his right hip, played only one full game and part of another. Roger Maris, who hit an unprecedented 61 homers during the season, had only two hits in 19 trips. One, however, was the game-winning homer in the ninth inning of the third game.

The victory meant about $8,000 to each Yankee on the unofficial basis of 34 shares from the $271,289.88 winner's pot. Each Cincinnati Red would get about $5,200 on the same basis. Exact shares are to be announced later in the week by the office of Commissioner Ford Frick.

Manager Fred Hutchinson used 21 players, tying another record, in a desperate effort to keep alive. But his Reds who left New York all even after two games, simply could not do the job.

Maple Bowl Game Is Set For Saturday

Meyersdale High Plays Turkeyfoot

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — Meyersdale Red Raiders and the Turkeyfoot Valley Rams will be gridiron opponents here Saturday, Oct. 14 at 2 p.m. EST, for the playing of the first annual Maple Bowl Football game, promoted by the Somerset County Maple Festival.

The gridiron contest will be one of the highlights of the second day of the festival to be held here Oct. 13, 14 and 15. The two rival teams, the home Red Raiders of Meyersdale joint high school, and the visiting Rams of Turkeyfoot Valley Area high school, will be out to capture year-long possession of an authentic wooden maple keeler.

It is planned that the Maple Bowl will become a yearly event and this trophy will be a revolving award, each year going to the winner. Since opponents of the Meyersdale grid edition in this game will not always be the same, it may be possible that the keeler will travel to schools throughout the county.

Of course, hometown fans of the Red Raiders will be hoping the trophy can be retained by the MJHS team. This keeler, with a suitably engraved brass plaque attached, is being presented by the Maple Producer's Association.

With one of their most potent football machines in years, the Rams rolled over the Raiders 37-7 in 1959, and came back last season to trim the MJHS eleven 20-12. Prior to 1959 Meyersdale had recorded 12 victories over the school, while not tasting defeat one time. Two games, in 1955 and 1951 ended in deadlocks.

Special halftime show will include the presentation of Pennsylvania Queen Maple XIV and her court, drill and musical routines by the Meyersdale and Turkeyfoot Valley bands, and a massed band concert of Somerset County bands.

Frostburg State Booters Turn Back Mt. St. Mary's College, 2-0

Beard Kicks Field Goals For Bobcats

Scores In Second And Third Periods As State Cops 2nd

Roy Beard, former Bruce High School booter, kicked field goals in the second and third periods to give Frostburg State Teachers College a 2-0 decision over Mt. St. Mary's College soccer team yesterday at Emmitsburg.

The victory was the second of the season for Coach Kenneth Babcock's Bobcats who have lost one game and played two ties.

Thirteen minutes after the second period got under way Beard slammed the ball through the uprights on a cross from Roy Sigler.

Bob Wilson passed to Beard who booted the second and final goal of the game after 15 minutes had expired in the third stanza.

Hank Winner played a bang-up game at right fullback for the Bobcats and seemed to be all over the field breaking up Mounts' plays. George Lauder, right fullback, was used sparingly because of a knee injury he suffered in last Saturday's game.

Frostburg had 38 shots at the goal to Mt. St. Mary's 14. Each team had four corner kicks.

Goalie Stoner of the Mounts was credited with 22 saves while Geoff Whitmore and Darwin Robeson, who shared the goal-tending duties for the Bobcats, had eleven and one, respectively.

Frostburg State will engage Howard University of Washington, D. C., in the annual homecoming game in the Mountain City Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Maryland Booters Beat NC State, 10-0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Juan Carlos Martin, scored six goals Monday as the University of Maryland scored a resounding 10-0 Atlantic Coast Conference soccer victory over North Carolina State.

Martin's brilliant performance climaxed the old ACC scoring record shared jointly by two Terps and one player from Duke University.

Maryland, runner-up to St. Louis in the NCAA finals last year, has a 32-0-1 record in a span of over eight years.

SETTING RECORD THEY DIDN'T WANT — Cincinnati Red pitcher Joey Jay (30) walks from field in first inning yesterday as Manager Fred Hutchinson, left, and catcher John Edwards wait on mound for pitcher Jim Maloney to arrive from bull pen. Jay was first of eight pitchers used by Reds in World Series game against New York Yankees as Cincy went down to defeat, 13-5. The eight pitchers set a record for most pitchers used by one team in a World Series game. The ten used by both equals a Series record. (AP Photofax)

Gazette Sports Editor A. L. Hardman, in a dispatch from Cincinnati, quoted Marlin owner William McDonald that "all details of the move to Atlanta have been completed."

Hardman said McDonald cited poor weather in Charleston as the reason for the move.

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Gene Blackburn, co-captain of the Wabash College football team, remained in critical condition here Monday with injuries suffered in Saturday's game with Butler University at Crawfordsville, Ind.

Cousy May Become Part-Time Player Due To Sore Elbow

BOSTON (UPI) The world champion Boston Celtics may have veteran play-making star Bob Cousy only for part-time duty this season.

The 33-year-old former Holy Cross star, generally regarded as the best player for his size in the National Basketball Association, was reported undergoing treatment for a sore elbow in his home town of Worcester.

First reports said Cousy was suffering from a bone spur in his right elbow. The spur could be removed by surgery, but that would knock Cousy out of action for three months, physicians estimated.

Instead, Celtic physician Dr. John Doherty said Cousy had decided to postpone an operation until after the coming season. The decision, officials indicated, could mean that Cousy would have to be rested at various times during the NBA campaign.

Frostburg State Booters Turn Back Mt. St. Mary's College, 2-0

Beard Kicks Field Goals For Bobcats

Scores In Second And Third Periods As State Cops 2nd

Roy Beard, former Bruce High School booter, kicked field goals in the second and third periods to give Frostburg State Teachers College a 2-0 decision over Mt. St. Mary's College soccer team yesterday at Emmitsburg.

The victory was the second of the season for Coach Kenneth Babcock's Bobcats who have lost one game and played two ties.

Thirteen minutes after the second period got under way Beard slammed the ball through the uprights on a cross from Roy Sigler.

Bob Wilson passed to Beard who booted the second and final goal of the game after 15 minutes had expired in the third stanza.

Hank Winner played a bang-up game at right fullback for the Bobcats and seemed to be all over the field breaking up Mounts' plays. George Lauder, right fullback, was used sparingly because of a knee injury he suffered in last Saturday's game.

Frostburg had 38 shots at the goal to Mt. St. Mary's 14. Each team had four corner kicks.

Goalie Stoner of the Mounts was credited with 22 saves while Geoff Whitmore and Darwin Robeson, who shared the goal-tending duties for the Bobcats, had eleven and one, respectively.

Frostburg State will engage Howard University of Washington, D. C., in the annual homecoming game in the Mountain City Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Clarence Hemmis Wins Canadian Motorcycle Hill Climbing Title

Cumberland Rider Scores At Kitchener

"Tee" Gets Trophy And $175; New York Cyclist Is Second

Clarence "Tee" Hemmis, 37, of Cumberland, on the comeback trail after an absence of eight years from active competition, won the Canadian national motorcycle hill climbing championship yesterday at Kitchener, Ontario, by copping the 80 cubic inch open event in 5.87 seconds.

Riding an English-made Triumph motor, Hemmis, who was competing in the Canadian title event for the first time, collected $175 in cash and a trophy for his performance.

New Yorker Is Second

Dorance Johnson, of New York City, finished second in 6.74 seconds, Abbie Haight, of Indiana, was third (7.40) and Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., fourth in 7.50 seconds.

Eight of the top riders in the earlier events on the program participated in the championship test which is staged annually on Canada's Thanksgiving Day.

Hemmis, who won the U. S. national championship at Port Jarvis, N. Y., in 1948, has participated in ten events this year and has finished first on four occasions. Clarence is an older brother of Joseph W. Hemmis, who captured both the U. S. and Canadian championships in 1959. Joe missed both events this year as a result of injuries received here while tuning up for the U. S. National which was staged at Utica, N. Y.

'Tee' participated in two events yesterday and finished second to Kenny Hatton, of Toronto, Canada, in the 74 cubic inch test. Hatton's time was 4.41 seconds and Hemmis' 4.62. Willard Bryan, Columbus, Ohio, was third in 4.85, and Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., finished fourth in 5.01.

Vic Salvador, of Pen Argyl, Pa., won the Class B event in 5.02 seconds. Bob Judy, of Cumberland, was an entrant but developed motor trouble and finished sixth.

30 Riders Participate

Thirty riders participated in the program.

Prior to going to Canada, 'Tee' Hemmis participated in a hill climbing program at Bethlehem, Pa., Sunday afternoon and finished second in both tests. Howard Mitzel, the veteran slant rider of York, Pa., was a double winner.

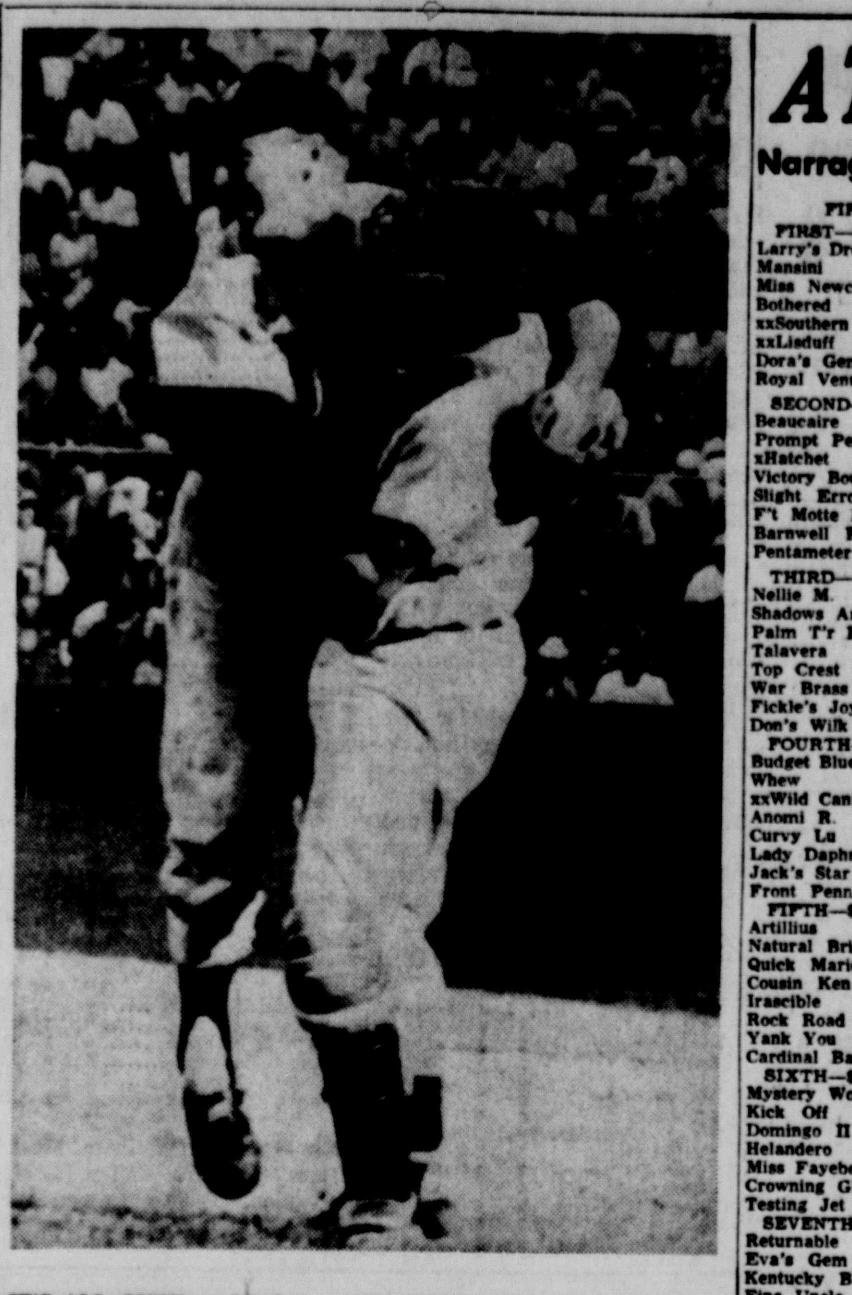
Ingo Shuns Fight With Cassius Clay

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, the former heavyweight boxing champion, said Monday a bout with Cassius Clay would not draw enough money and that he is interested only now in fighting suspended Sonny Liston of Philadelphia.

The big Swede made the comment to reports from Louisville that promoter Bill King had cabled him an offer of $100,000 to meet undefeated Cassius Clay, the Olympic light heavyweight champion of 1960.

They're building two 18-hole golf courses and a 9-hole par-three course on a 1,200 acre site four miles west of the Miami airport. Called the Doral Country Club, it will be opened the end of this year.

The actual total capacity at Crosley Field, Cincinnati is 30,274 but the all-time record crowd was 36,961 for a doubleheader with Pittsburgh in 1947.



IT'S ALL OVER — Yankee catcher Elston Howard lifts pitcher Bud Daley off ground on mound after Daley retired Reds' centerfielder Vada Pinson for final out of 1961 World Series at Cincinnati yesterday. Yankees' 13-5 win gave them the series four games to one. (AP Photofax)

Mississippi Takes Over No. 1 Spot In UPI Poll

Iowa Slips To 5th; Michigan Grabs 2nd, Terps Vault To Ninth

By JOE SARGIS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mississippi's high-scoring Rebels, who have given up only six points in three games this season, vaulted over Iowa Monday to the No. 1 spot in the second weekly United Press International major college football ratings.

Mississippi whipped Florida State, 33-0, last Saturday for its third straight win of the season and extended its unbeaten string to 18 games. As a result, 24 of the 35 coaches, five each from the seven geographical sections of the country, named the Rebels the nation's top team.

Iowa, first a week ago when the Hawkeyes and Rebels each drew 10 first-place votes, dropped to fifth this week as a total of four Big Ten conference teams, headed by Michigan and Michigan State, moved into the top 10. Iowa, a narrow 35-34 winner over Southern California last Saturday, drew only one first place vote this week, while Michigan and Michigan State each picked up three firsts.

Rate Michigan Second

Michigan, a 38-8 winner over Army, picked up strong support all along the line on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 points for votes from first to 10th to take over second place, the spot occupied a week ago by Mississippi. The Wolverines drew a total of 233 points to Mississippi's 316 to shade Texas by just eight points for the runnerup spot. Texas also was third last week.

Alabama, seventh a week ago, moved up to fourth with 218 points, Iowa was next with 214, and Michigan State, fourth last week, was sixth this time with 212 points as only 21 points separated five teams, Notre Dame moved up from 12th to seventh, Ohio State advanced from 10th to eighth, Baylor moved from 10th to tie Maryland for ninth.

Dropping out of the top 10 were Georgia Tech, from third to 14th, Missouri from sixth to 15th and Syracuse, which drew 99 points a week ago for ninth, got only one point this week.

Heads Second Ten

The second 10 was made up of Northwestern, Colorado, Duke, Georgia Tech, Missouri, Arkansas, Washington, Utah State from 11th through 18th and Auburn, Louisiana State, Purdue and Wyoming were tied for 19th.

Other teams which received votes included Texas Christian, UCLA, Iowa State, Navy, Minnesota, the defending national champion, Southern California, Tennessee and Utah.

In games involving the top 10 this week, the Michigan-Michigan State match at Ann Arbor, Mich., which will be televised nationally, tops the program. Mississippi plays Houston while Texas tangles with Oklahoma, Alabama plays North Carolina State, Iowa meets Indiana, Notre Dame plays Southern California, Ohio State meets Illinois, Baylor plays Arkansas, and Maryland meets North Carolina.

Golfers Ring Up Consecutive Aces

SHARON, Pa. (AP) —A golfing phenomenon — consecutive holes-in-one — occurred at Tam O'Shanter course Sunday, with E. R. Friedlob of Youngstown, Ohio, and John Baltine, Wheatland, Pa., accomplishing the feat.

Friedlob, firing first on the 130-yard, 14th hole, hit a nine-iron shot which landed two feet past the pin and bounced back into the cup. Baltine, the Tam O'Shanter Club champion, then used a wedge for a shot that landed about two feet short and went into the hole on the first bounce.

It was the fourth ace in Baltine's golfing career, and the first for Friedlob.

Nuggets Win Three

Golden Nugget defeated the Hi Dee Bar, 3-0, last night in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match postponed from last week. High scorers were John Shockey with 23 for the Nuggets and Ed Reed with 20 for the Hi Dee Bar.

Mets And Colts Stock Rosters In Draft Today

CINCINNATI (AP) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts will stock their rosters with players from other National League clubs Tuesday in a grab-bag draft that can bring each of the new clubs 28 players for $2,100,000.

A special "premium" list of players valued at $125,000 each will be made available to the new clubs in the expanded 10-club league. Each can take a total of four "premium" players from a list that includes Jack Sanford of San Francisco, Daryl Spencer and Dick Farrell of Los Angeles and Hal Smith of Pittsburgh.

Before the "premium" player draft, each club must take a total of 16 (two from each of the eight existing clubs) at $75,000 each. Each new club also can take one more from each of the old clubs at $50,000 each.

If the Mets and Houston went all the way, they would take 16 at $75,000 each, eight at $50,000 and four at $125,000. However, they do not have to take the eight at $50,000.

Each of the old clubs presented lists containing 15 players, seven of whom must have been on the 25-player active roster Aug. 31. The eight other men were players under control who were recalled or purchased after Aug. 31 and are on the club's 40-man reserve list.

Gil Hodges, Robin Roberts, Red Schoendienst, Sam Jones, Richie Ashburn, Johnny Antonelli and Vinegar Bend Mizell are among the names on the regular lists subject to draft.

In general the Mets are expected to go heavy for veterans or established "name" players while the Colts will concentrate on on youth.

The new clubs will operate next year.

Clarence Hemmis Wins Canadian Motorcycle Hill Climbing Title

Cumberland Rider Scores At Kitchener

"Tee" Gets Trophy And $175; New York Cyclist Is Second

Clarence "Tee" Hemmis, 37, of Cumberland, on the comeback trail after an absence of eight years from active competition, won the Canadian national motorcycle hill climbing championship yesterday at Kitchener, Ontario, by copping the 80 cubic inch open event in 5.87 seconds.

Riding an English-made Triumph motor, Hemmis, who was competing in the Canadian title event for the first time, collected $175 in cash and a trophy for his performance.

New Yorker Is Second

Dorance Johnson, of New York City, finished second in 6.74 seconds, Abbie Haight, of Indiana, was third (7.40) and Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., fourth in 7.50 seconds.

Eight of the top riders in the earlier events on the program participated in the championship test which is staged annually on Canada's Thanksgiving Day.

Hemmis, who won the U. S. national championship at Port Jarvis, N. Y., in 1948, has participated in ten events this year and has finished first on four occasions. Clarence is an older brother of Joseph W. Hemmis, who captured both the U. S. and Canadian championships in 1959. Joe missed both events this year as a result of injuries received here while tuning up for the U. S. National which was staged at Utica, N. Y.

'Tee' participated in two events yesterday and finished second to Kenny Hatton, of Toronto, Canada, in the 74 cubic inch test. Hatton's time was 4.41 seconds and Hemmis' 4.62. Willard Bryan, Columbus, Ohio, was third in 4.85, and Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., finished fourth in 5.01.

Vic Salvador, of Pen Argyl, Pa., won the Class B event in 5.02 seconds. Bob Judy, of Cumberland, was an entrant but developed motor trouble and finished sixth.

30 Riders Participate

Thirty riders participated in the program.

Prior to going to Canada, 'Tee' Hemmis participated in a hill climbing program at Bethlehem, Pa., Sunday afternoon and finished second in both tests. Howard Mitzel, the veteran slant rider of York, Pa., was a double winner.

Ingo Shuns Fight With Cassius Clay

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, the former heavyweight boxing champion, said Monday a bout with Cassius Clay would not draw enough money and that he is interested only now in fighting suspended Sonny Liston of Philadelphia.

The big Swede made the comment to reports from Louisville that promoter Bill King had cabled him an offer of $100,000 to meet undefeated Cassius Clay, the Olympic light heavyweight champion of 1960.

They're building two 18-hole golf courses and a 9-hole par-three course on a 1,200 acre site four miles west of the Miami airport. Called the Doral Country Club, it will be opened the end of this year.

The actual total capacity at Crosley Field, Cincinnati is 30,274 but the all-time record crowd was 36,961 for a doubleheader with Pittsburgh in 1947.

Mississippi Takes Over No. 1 Spot In UPI Poll

Iowa Slips To 5th; Michigan Grabs 2nd, Terps Vault To Ninth

By JOE SARGIS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mississippi's high-scoring Rebels, who have given up only six points in three games this season, vaulted over Iowa Monday to the No. 1 spot in the second weekly United Press International major college football ratings.

Mississippi whipped Florida State, 33-0, last Saturday for its third straight win of the season and extended its unbeaten string to 18 games. As a result, 24 of the 35 coaches, five each from the seven geographical sections of the country, named the Rebels the nation's top team.

Iowa, first a week ago when the Hawkeyes and Rebels each drew 10 first-place votes, dropped to fifth this week as a total of four Big Ten conference teams, headed by Michigan and Michigan State, moved into the top 10. Iowa, a narrow 35-34 winner over Southern California last Saturday, drew only one first place vote this week, while Michigan and Michigan State each picked up three firsts.

Rate Michigan Second

Michigan, a 38-8 winner over Army, picked up strong support all along the line on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 points for votes from first to 10th to take over second place, the spot occupied a week ago by Mississippi. The Wolverines drew a total of 233 points to Mississippi's 316 to shade Texas by just eight points for the runnerup spot. Texas also was third last week.

Alabama, seventh a week ago, moved up to fourth with 218 points, Iowa was next with 214, and Michigan State, fourth last week, was sixth this time with 212 points as only 21 points separated five teams. Notre Dame moved up from 12th to seventh, Ohio State advanced from 10th to eighth, Baylor moved from 10th to tie Maryland for ninth.

Dropping out of the top 10 were Georgia Tech, from third to 14th, Missouri from sixth to 15th and Syracuse, which drew 99 points a week ago for ninth, got only one point this week.

Heads Second Ten

The second 10 was made up of Northwestern, Colorado, Duke, Georgia Tech, Missouri, Arkansas, Washington, Utah State from 11th through 18th and Auburn, Louisiana State, Purdue and Wyoming were tied for 19th.

Other teams which received votes included Texas Christian, UCLA, Iowa State, Navy, Minnesota, the defending national champion, Southern California, Tennessee and Utah.

In games involving the top 10 this week, the Michigan-Michigan State match at Ann Arbor, Mich., which will be televised nationally, tops the program. Mississippi plays Houston while Texas tangles with Oklahoma, Alabama plays North Carolina State, Iowa meets Indiana, Notre Dame plays Southern California, Ohio State meets Illinois, Baylor plays Arkansas, and Maryland meets North Carolina.

Golfers Ring Up Consecutive Aces

SHARON, Pa. (AP) —A golfing phenomenon — consecutive holes-in-one — occurred at Tam O'Shanter course Sunday, with E. R. Friedlob of Youngstown, Ohio, and John Baltine, Wheatland, Pa., accomplishing the feat.

Friedlob, firing first on the 130-yard, 14th hole, hit a nine-iron shot which landed two feet past the pin and bounced back into the cup. Baltine, the Tam O'Shanter Club champion, then used a wedge for a shot that landed about two feet short and went into the hole on the first bounce.

It was the fourth ace in Baltine's golfing career, and the first for Friedlob.

Nuggets Win Three

Golden Nugget defeated the Hi Dee Bar, 3-0, last night in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match postponed from last week. High scorers were John Shockey with 23 for the Nuggets and Ed Reed with 20 for the Hi Dee Bar.

Mets And Colts Stock Rosters In Draft Today

CINCINNATI (AP) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts will stock their rosters with players from other National League clubs Tuesday in a grab-bag draft that can bring each of the new clubs 28 players for $2,100,000.

A special "premium" list of players valued at $125,000 each will be made available to the new clubs in the expanded 10-club league. Each can take a total of four "premium" players from a list that includes Jack Sanford of San Francisco, Daryl Spencer and Dick Farrell of Los Angeles and Hal Smith of Pittsburgh.

Before the "premium" player draft, each club must take a total of 16 (two from each of the eight existing clubs) at $75,000 each. Each new club also can take one more from each of the old clubs at $50,000 each.

If the Mets and Houston went all the way, they would take 16 at $75,000 each, eight at $50,000 and four at $125,000. However, they do not have to take the eight at $50,000.

Each of the old clubs presented lists containing 15 players, seven of whom must have been on the 25-player active roster Aug. 31. The eight other men were players under control who were recalled or purchased after Aug. 31 and are on the club's 40-man reserve list.

Gil Hodges, Robin Roberts, Red Schoendienst, Sam Jones, Richie Ashburn, Johnny Antonelli and Vinegar Bend Mizell are among the names on the regular lists subject to draft.

In general the Mets are expected to go heavy for veterans or established "name" players while the Colts will concentrate on on youth.

The new clubs will operate next year.

Market Closes Irregular On Reduced Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market slipped a little Monday, according to the popular averages, but the number of stocks finishing higher virtually equaled the number of losers.

Activity plunged to 2,920,000 shares from 3,470,000 in the previous session.

Steel production was down 1.4 per cent last week, the first drop since the third week of July. Ford Motor, which touched a new high Monday, is still on strike and with no apparent sign of a quick settlement.

All these factors plus a 3½-point loss for DuPont helped depress the Dow-Jones industrial average by 2.83 to 705.42. Rails fell 0.09 to 150.65 but the utilities rose 0.33 to 127.46. Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks lost only three cents.

The market also narrowed to include only 1,260 stocks of which gainers accounted for 506—only two less than losers. New highs outnumbered new lows 58 to 14.

San Diego Imperial, a savings and loan company, was the most active stock, rising a point on 66,600 shares.

Retired Methodist Minister Ends Life

POCOMOKE CITY (AP) — W. J. Ennis, 56-year-old retired Methodist minister from Camden, Del., committed suicide by hanging, Dr. Robert C. Lamar, deputy medical examiner, ruled Monday.

Ennis was found dead by a maid in a motel where he had checked in Sunday.

Dr. Lamar said a note left by Ennis indicated he was despondent over a lingering illness.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rumors of a change in the government's corn selling policy acted to push feed grains sharply higher Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Other grains followed the advance, but the market ran into heavy profit-taking near the close.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ½; corn up 1 to 1½; oats unchanged to up ⅞; rye up ⅛ to ½ and soybeans up ¾ to 1⅞.

Corn futures opened under a heavy demand from locals, shorts and commission traders. The buying boosted the December contract about 5 cents a bushel before selling increased.

Brokers said talk that the CCC had raised its asking prices prompted the general demand. The agency made no official announcement to confirm or deny the rumors.

Oats followed the upturn closely, with early gains ranging to almost 2 cents a bushel. Other grains also tacked on fractions.

Wheat was helped by news that 4,660,000 bushels of white and hard wheat was sold to India. Commission houses sold on the advance. Rey futures declined after rising early in the day.

The upturn in feed grains also supported soybeans, where lighter than expected hedge sales were another factor. Oils held steady, but meal was also firm.

Exporters said Holland and West Germany bought a total of 400,000 bushels of corn. Japan took 100,000 bushels of soybeans.

Outside markets were mostly higher. The Winnipeg market was closed for a Canadian holiday.

Market Closes Irregular On Reduced Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market slipped a little Monday, according to the popular averages, but the number of stocks finishing higher virtually equaled the number of losers.

Activity plunged to 2,920,000 shares from 3,470,000 in the previous session.

Steel production was down 1.4 per cent last week, the first drop since the third week of July. Ford Motor, which touched a new high Monday, is still on strike and with no apparent sign of a quick settlement.

All these factors plus a 3½-point loss for DuPont helped depress the Dow-Jones industrial average by 2.83 to 705.42. Rails fell 0.09 to 150.65 but the utilities rose 0.33 to 127.46. Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks lost only three cents.

The market also narrowed to include only 1,260 stocks of which gainers accounted for 506—only two less than losers. New highs outnumbered new lows 58 to 14.

San Diego Imperial, a savings and loan company, was the most active stock, rising a point on 66,600 shares.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Retired Methodist Minister Ends Life

POCOMOKE CITY (AP) — W. J. Ennis, 56-year-old retired Methodist minister from Camden, Del., committed suicide by hanging, Dr. Robert C. Lamar, deputy medical examiner, ruled Monday.

Ennis was found dead by a maid in a motel where he had checked in Sunday.

Dr. Lamar said a note left by Ennis indicated he was despondent over a lingering illness.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rumors of a change in the government's corn selling policy acted to push feed grains sharply higher Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Other grains followed the advance, but the market ran into heavy profit-taking near the close.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ½; corn up 1 to 1½; oats unchanged to up ⅞; rye up ⅛ to ½ and soybeans up ¾ to 1⅞.

Corn futures opened under a heavy demand from locals, shorts and commission traders. The buying boosted the December contract about 5 cents a bushel before selling increased.

Brokers said talk that the CCC had raised its asking prices prompted the general demand. The agency made no official announcement to confirm or deny the rumors.

Oats followed the upturn closely, with early gains ranging to almost 2 cents a bushel. Other grains also tacked on fractions.

Wheat was helped by news that 4,660,000 bushels of white and hard wheat was sold to India. Commission houses sold on the advance. Rey futures declined after rising early in the day.

The upturn in feed grains also supported soybeans, where lighter than expected hedge sales were another factor. Oils held steady, but meal was also firm.

Exporters said Holland and West Germany bought a total of 400,000 bushels of corn. Japan took 100,000 bushels of soybeans.

Outside markets were mostly higher. The Winnipeg market was closed for a Canadian holiday.

I wish to thank my neighbors and friends for the cards and visits I received while I was a patient at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser. I also wish to thank Dr. Paul Healy, and the nurses, for their services.

To Reverend Henry A. Laube, I extend my thanks for his visits. To Victory Post 155, American Legion of Westernport also goes my sincere thanks.

CARL BLIZZARD

We desire to extend our thanks and appreciation to all our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of my husband and father Adam Henry Hersh. We especially wish to thank Rev. Robert E. Bavender, Rev. Earl Meyers and Rev. Balderson. Also the pallbearers and all those who sent flowers and cards. To all those who in any manner rendered assistance we are indeed grateful.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Nuances Are Nuisances

Can you remember 'way back when almost ANYONE—even a color-blind husband— could identify a color by its name? Why, it was actually possible to order goods of a certain color by phone or by mail, sight unseen, and be fairly certain that the shade in mind would be the shade delivered. There were red, blue, yellow, purple, green and orange. And rose was rose and nothing but rose.

Nuances? Nonsense. Shades were either dark, light or middling . . . a fact as clear to everyone then as black on white.

Nowadays, you can't tell colors without a program, or with one either, for that matter.

Don't blame the dye chemists! All they did was to contrive the formulas and methods to reproduce every conceivable shade in the spectrum, every nuance in nature—and capture them forever in fabric! When that little box of crayons we once caried to kindergarten increased and multiplied into hundreds of colors with six nuances apiece, it was the signal for a brilliant new era in fashion and home decoration.

And nomenclature!

The christening ceremonies were on, in the independently working imaginations of several dozen fabric makers, fashion designers and advertising copywriters. They appointed themselves the mass godparent for a gobbledegook glossary of color. Ah, if only they had thought first to get together to collaborate on a single standard of classification. If only they had taken the pledge — to be consistent!

Now, we have thousands of names to remember, all as changeable as the seasons . . . and whimsically interchangeable, too. All equipped with alliterative and exciting adjectives that do everything but tell us the color they are trying to describe. It makes for lots zingier reading. But only a real daredevil would ever dream of ordering or matching colors without seeing them personally.

This '- a capricious new game, guessing today's colors by their newfangled titles, attempting to puzzle one's way past "pigments" and comparisons that seldom suggest the same shade to every woman. Most of the tags seem to have been supplied by cooks, gardeners, geologists . . . and bartenders! Cinnamon, eggplant . . . and cafe au lait! Custard and mushroom! Magenta, moss and hollyberry! Stone and sand, wet and dry! Brandy, wine . . . and seven flavors of punch!

Today's well-dressed woman doesn't know for sure if she looks ready for replanting . . or like the piece de resistance in a six-course dinner. Until she reads the ads and fashion columns.

And then it's hard to tell. Last season's "doe" might be this season's "fawn." What seemed "clay" to her untutored eyes may be only "putty" in the adman's hands. By some weird alchemy, "ginger ale" can turn into "champagne"—but it takes a connoisseur to taste the difference. (Imagine how cerise your face, calling it beige! A deeper blush and you'd have been magenta!)

You may as well cheat... and peek for yourself from now on. It's the only way to win this game. Just don't let "them" know your 20-20 vision is matching today's "mustard" to yesterday's "old gold." What if they DO call it "curied ochre" or "jaundiced egg yolk" tomorow!

Meanwhile, over fall and winter, study up on your chromatic scales. It will take that long to prepare for the things "they're" going to call next spring's swing to red-white-and-blue. I predict right now that scarlet-snow-and-sapphire is going to play hob with some key lines in "The Star-Spangled Banner."

You can become familiar with a few of the favorite names in fashion's color game through my booklet, "Your Color Type," available from this newspaper upon request to me, John Robert Powers. Be sure to enclose 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Keep a copy in your purse to "interpret" for you when you shop.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Nuances Are Nuisances

Can you remember 'way back when almost ANYONE—even a color-blind husband— could identify a color by its name? Why, it was actually possible to order goods of a certain color by phone or by mail, sight unseen, and be fairly certain that the shade in mind would be the shade delivered. There were red, blue, yellow, purple, green and orange. And rose was rose and nothing but rose.

Nuances? Nonsense. Shades were either dark, light or middling . . . a fact as clear to everyone then as black on white.

Nowadays, you can't tell colors without a program, or with one either, for that matter.

Don't blame the dye chemists! All they did was to contrive the formulas and methods to reproduce every conceivable shade in the spectrum, every nuance in nature—and capture them forever in fabric! When that little box of crayons we once caried to kindergarten increased and multiplied into hundreds of colors with six nuances apiece, it was the signal for a brilliant new era in fashion and home decoration.

And nomenclature!

The christening ceremonies were on, in the independently working imaginations of several dozen fabric makers, fashion designers and advertising copywriters. They appointed themselves the mass godparent for a gobbledegook glossary of color. Ah, if only they had thought first to get together to collaborate on a single standard of classification. If only they had taken the pledge — to be consistent!

Now, we have thousands of names to remember, all as changeable as the seasons . . . and whimsically interchangeable, too. All equipped with alliterative and exciting adjectives that do everything but tell us the color they are trying to describe. It makes for lots zingier reading. But only a real daredevil would ever dream of ordering or matching colors without seeing them personally.

This '- a capricious new game, guessing today's colors by their newfangled titles, attempting to puzzle one's way past "pigments" and comparisons that seldom suggest the same shade to every woman. Most of the tags seem to have been supplied by cooks, gardeners, geologists . . . and bartenders! Cinnamon, eggplant . . . and cafe au lait! Custard and mushroom! Magenta, moss and hollyberry! Stone and sand, wet and dry! Brandy, wine . . . and seven flavors of punch!

Today's well-dressed woman doesn't know for sure if she looks ready for replanting . . or like the piece de resistance in a six-course dinner. Until she reads the ads and fashion columns.

And then it's hard to tell. Last season's "doe" might be this season's "fawn." What seemed "clay" to her untutored eyes may be only "putty" in the adman's hands. By some weird alchemy, "ginger ale" can turn into "champagne"—but it takes a connoisseur to taste the difference. (Imagine how cerise your face, calling it beige! A deeper blush and you'd have been magenta!)

You may as well cheat... and peek for yourself from now on. It's the only way to win this game. Just don't let "them" know your 20-20 vision is matching today's "mustard" to yesterday's "old gold." What if they DO call it "curied ochre" or "jaundiced egg yolk" tomorrow!

Meanwhile, over fall and winter, study up on your chromatic scales. It will take that long to prepare for the things "they're" going to call next spring's swing to red-white-and-blue. I predict right now that scarlet-snow-and-sapphire is going to play hob with some key lines in "The Star-Spangled Banner."

You can become familiar with a few of the favorite names in fashion's color game through my booklet, "Your Color Type," available from this newspaper upon request to me, John Robert Powers. Be sure to enclose 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Keep a copy in your purse to "interpret" for you when you shop.

Stuart Hamill Named Judge In Garrett Co.

To Serve Until 1962 Election

Governor J. Millard Tawes yesterday appointed Stuart F. Hamill Jr., Oakland attorney, for the Garrett County Circuit Court judgeship vacated by the death of Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley last month.

Mr. Hamill, the only Democratic lawyer in Garrett County, received the nod over W. Dwight Stover, a Republican who is now state's attorney in that county.

Both men were recommended by the Garrett County Bar Association; a three-man committee of the Fourth Judicial Circuit and the Maryland Bar Association.

The new judge was appointed until the general election of 1962, at which time he is expected to seek a 15-year-term on his own.

A native and lifelong resident of Oakland, Mr. Hamill is 45 and attorney of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett.

He attended public schools in Oakland, the Hill School in Pottstown, Pa., the University of Virginia and the University of Baltimore Law School, where he received his degree in 1941.

He served 4½ years in the Army in the European Theater before opening a law practice in Oakland. He formerly was an attorney to the County Board of Education and is vice president of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Company.

He is married and the father of three children.

Lions Bring Circus Here Tomorrow

Two Performances Due At Fairgo

The Cumberland Lions Club will sponsor Mills Brothers three-ring circus tomorrow at the Cumberland fair grounds.

The matinee performance will begin at 4 o'clock and the evening performance will start at 8 o'clock, according to a spokesman for the club, who said doors will open one hour prior to each performance.

Bus transportation will be provided by the Queen City Bus Lines from downtown Cumberland at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. and the buses will go down into the circus area, said the spokesman.

A group of handicapped children and crippled children will be escorted to the circus and see the matinee from reserved seats.

Instead of a regular meeting at Central YMCA tomorrow the members of the local Lions Club will meet at the fair grounds as guests of the circus.

A gaily-painted fleet of nearly 100 motorized units will roll into Cumberland bringing a herd of elephants, troupe of nearly 500 persons from 18 nations, dancing horses, trained animals, tons of props and all the traditional spangled wonders that make "circus" a word of magic.

Early morning spectators will watch in awe as huge elephants join in hoisting heavy poles and canvas into position. Workmen will erect grandstands, bleachers, hang aerial rigging and do a thousand chores to change the grounds into a sawdust fairyland.

Contortionists, head-to-head balancing acts, dancing and high-jumping horses, acrobats, and other top-notch artists fill out the all-star circus performance climaxed by the greatest elephant act in America.

Petersburg May Get New Garment Plant

Firm Seeking SBA Loan For Building

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Providing the Small Business Administration (SBA) goes along with a loan request, Petersburg is in line for a welcome Christmas present.

Commerce Director Hulett Smith announced Monday that a new $100,000 garment factory designed to employ 110 persons will be built there if the SBA approves a loan application from the Petersburg Industrial Development Corp. (PIDC).

The new facility, the first of its kind in Grant County, would be operated by Windsor Knit Inc. Manufacturing of children's clothing would be the chief operation at the plant.

Smith said he could see no reason why the SBA would not approve the loan request. "If approved, construction of a 13,100 square foot building to house the new industry will begin immediately," he said.

Smith also said there was a good chance the operation might be functioning by Christmas time. The building would be of brick and block construction.

On completion of the building, the land and structure would be leased by PIDC to the firm for 20 years with an option to renew for 20 years or an option to purchase within the first 20 year period.

James C. Bauer and D. Allan Douglas, co-chairmen for the Jaycee show, describe it as the type of show many large cities would like to offer the public.

One of them will be a full-size fall-out shelter constructed on the premises, manned by local Civil Defense personnel, completely equipped and showing several movies on fall-out dangers and defenses and Civil Defense procedures in case of attack.

Another highlight will be the area's first combined showing of 1962 automobiles with their many new design features. Mobile homes from large new expandibles down to the "piggy-back" sportsmen's camping units will be on display.

Some of the area's leading interior designers have arranged schemes that promise to spark the imagination of home owners.

Also included in the show will be displays of furnishings, appliances, construction and remodeling materials, heating and air-conditioning equipment, sanitation and pest control services, insurance and home finance agencies, kitchens, landscaping, real estate, gas and electric utilities.

Lions Bring Circus Here Tomorrow

Two Performances Due At Fairgo

The Cumberland Lions Club will sponsor Mills Brothers three-ring circus tomorrow at the Cumberland fair grounds.

The matinee performance will begin at 4 o'clock and the evening performance will start at 3 o'clock, according to a spokesman for the club, who said doors will open one hour prior to each performance.

Bus transportation will be provided by the Queen City Bus Lines from downtown Cumberland at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. and the buses will go down into the circus area, said the spokesman.

A group of handicapped children and crippled children will be escorted to the circus and see the matinee from reserved seats.

Instead of a regular meeting at Central YMCA tomorrow the members of the local Lions Club will meet at the fair grounds as guests of the circus.

A gaily-painted fleet of nearly 100 motorized units will roll into Cumberland bringing a herd of elephants, troupe of nearly 500 persons from 18 nations, dancing horses, trained animals, tons of props and all the traditional spangled wonders that make "circus" a word of magic.

Early morning spectators will watch in awe as huge elephants join in hoisting heavy poles and canvas into position. Workmen will erect grandstands, bleachers, hang aerial rigging and do a thousand chores to change the grounds into a sawdust fairyland.

Contortionists, head-to-head balancing acts, dancing and high-jumping horses, acrobats, and other top-notch artists fill out the all-star circus performance climaxed by the greatest elephant act in America.

Petersburg May Get New Garment Plant

Firm Seeking SBA Loan For Building

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Providing the Small Business Administration (SBA) goes along with a loan request, Petersburg is in line for a welcome Christmas present.

Commerce Director Hulett Smith announced Monday that a new $100,000 garment factory designed to employ 110 persons will be built there if the SBA approves a loan application from the Petersburg Industrial Development Corp. (PIDC).

The new facility, the first of its kind in Grant County, would be operated by Windsor Knit Inc. Manufacturing of children's clothing would be the chief operation at the plant.

Smith said he could see no reason why the SBA would not approve the loan request. "If approved, construction of a 13,100 square foot building to house the new industry will begin immediately," he said.

Smith also said there was a good chance the operation might be functioning by Christmas time. The building would be of brick and block construction.

On completion of the building, the land and structure would be leased by PIDC to the firm for 20 years with an option to renew for 20 years or an option to purchase within the first 20 year period.
